Propose Purchase of Railroad for Commuting

The SUN today proposes that Utah Construction Company, the Rheem interests and the Dollar Industries consider the purchase of the Sacramento Northern Railroad to be converted to rapid transit commute service for Central Contra Costa County.

(See editorial, back page.)

This suggestion is made by this newspaper in the belief that prompt action is necessary to save the trackage from imminent abandonment and "junking" and to assure future facilities for rapid transit commuter service.

The tracks go through Utah Construction and Rheem land in Moraga Valley and near the Dollar property in the Saranap-Walnut Creek area.

IN MAKING THE suggestion, The SUN points out the purchase would be to the advantage of the three companies, since it would enhance the value of their land and that the move would also be a public service to this commuter area.

Harry A. Mitchell, former president of Sacramento Northern and of Western Pacific, who is now a trustee in bankruptcy for Sacramento Northern, said yesterday that application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the approximately 15 miles of track may not be made for "a month or two, maybe three."

However, he reiterated that he and R. G. Guggenhime, the other trustee in bankruptcy, still intend to make this application and then to sell the property to the highest bidder.

He said the successful bidder will probably be Western Pacific, owner of the outstanding stock and bonds of Sacramento Northern.

WESTERN PACIFIC officials have repeatedly stated their intention to sell the trackage for scrap. Mitchell yesterday repeated his conviction that "rapid transit or commuter service doesn't fit into this situation."

"I was with the company when it started the commute service in 1913 and was familiar with this operation until it was dropped about 13 years ago," he said.

"Commute service or rapid transit is extremely unlikely for the Sacramento Northern tracks.

"FOR ONE THING, it's a roundabout route, and we no longer have the Shafter Avenue franchise, so when you'd get into Oakland you'd have no place to go on such a commute run.

"For another thing, rapid transit means high-speed service. I don't believe the people would put up with going to work part way on one vehicle and then changing to another vehicle."

Mitchell said he realized the urgency of the commuter problem in Central Contra Costa County and that the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission, of which he is chairman, is studying possibility of rapid transit service here and throughout the nine Bay Area counties (including Contra Costa) in which the commission functions.

MITCHELL EXPLAINED that the abandonment application from Oakland to the West Lafayette station is being delayed because of details regarding other sections of Sacramento Northern.

Such a detail, he pointed out, is the application to ICC for abandonment of four and four-tenths miles of track, including its car ferry across the Sacramento River, on its line from Oakland to Sacramento.

Undisclosed Group Makes Pine Grove Bid

Orinda Association Asks Names of Members of Anonymous 'Committee'

A $10,000 check, signed by Miss Esther Hollst of San Francisco on behalf of an undisclosed group calling itself "Committee for Orinda Center," has been tendered to East Bay Municipal Utility District as deposit for 10 acres of Pine Grove land, and the EBMUD board will act on the purchase offer this afternoon, EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland stated yesterday.

McFarland said that he was confident that the board "won't accept the offer, because it is contingent on rezoning."

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the board is scheduled for 2 p.m. at the district headquarters, 512 16th Street, Oakland.

CHAIRMAN JAMES HUPP of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee said yesterday:

"We would like to know who are on this 'Committee for Orinda Center.' Their identity is hidden behind anonymity."

Miss Hollst, who is executive secretary of the Retail Furriers Association, told The SUN the committee does not wish to disclose the identity of its members "until the EBMUD board acts on our offer."

SHE SAID one reason why the committee does not want to reveal names of its members is that "a number of Orinda merchants are on it, and the matter has been so controversial that they do not want their businesses hurt by premature publicity."

"Miss Hollst came in to see us the latter part of last week and made the deposit on the total purchase price of $100,000 which the district board has set for the parcel," McFarland said.

"She would not disclose the names of any of the principals. I told her that not disclosing the names would impress our board unfavorably.

"I haven't any idea who the principals are."

FORM POSTCARDS, postmarked in Oakland, were received by Orindans last Saturday from the "Committee for Orinda Center," with an attached return card addressed to this committee at 625 Market Street, Room 802, San Francisco 5. This suite is where Miss Hollst's desk is located.

The cards were addressed to "Residential Patron, Letter Carrier Route, Orinda, Calif.,, On the reverse side of the address-side under the heading, "Do you want a complete 'Orinda Shopping Center'?," the following appears:

"A COMMITTEE HAS been formed to formulate plans for the betterment of the Orinda Shopping District and to ascertain what the people want.

"A group is considering building a real shopping center which will include new stores and professional offices. When completed it will probably represent an investment from 5 to 10 million dollars.

"It should provide plenty of parking space and a provision for a community center, second to none. It will cover about 10 acres and as large or larger than the center in Walnut Creek.

"THE LOCATION is the upper or north corner of the "4 Corners," behind the new highway steel fence.

"It is the opinion of many that, based on present and future developments, such a center is desirable for home owners.

"May we have your opinion? Thanks. Promptly?

"Headquarters for 'Committee for Orinda Center,' 625 Market Street, Room 802. San Francisco. Calif."

MISS HOLLST told Hupp and The SUN that she is acting only in the capacity of handling certain details for the group, and that Emmet B. Keeffe, an attorney whose office is in the suite at Room 802, 625 Market Street, represents some of the people on the committee.

C of C to Confer With Purchasers Of EBMUD Land

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce will work with purchasers of East Bay Municipal Utility District land in order to work out a "harmonious business plan for Orinda."

President Ernest Poll Tuesday appointed himself and Architect Jack Buchter a committee to work with the purchasers of the EBMUD land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road.

"We will not interfere with planning and zoning as set forth by the Orinda Association and the County Planning Commission," said Poll, "but we do feel that we can work with these people to promote the best interests of Orinda.

"WE WISH TO PLAN a business community which will be free from overcrowding of one type of business and harmonious in every respect with the desires of Orindans and businessmen," he said.

In other action the chamber agreed that "associate" members could be listed in the Orinda Business Directory as long as they don't conflict with a local merchant.

Poll explained that an "associate" member is one who does not actually have his business located in Orinda, but provides some service that is necessary.

HE CANNOT BE LISTED in the directory if there is a representative of his business who actually operates in Orinda and is a member of the chamber.

The arrangement is subject to annual review. Associate members must pay full dues in order to be listed.

After a talk by guest Edward M. Larmer, the chamber voted to affiliate with the Contra Costa County Association of Chambers of Commerce.

Poll and Secretary Andy Blalock are automatically representatives and Laura Mallary was appointed.

Masons to Confer Second Degree

Orinda Masons will confer the Second Degree of Masonry at a special institution program Tuesday night at the Orinda Community Church.

School Enrollment Increases by 150

Enrollment in the Orinda School District has increased from 1698 pupils last year to 1847 this year, Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff said yesterday.

This means, he said, that there will be double sessions of kindergarten through the third grade at Sleepy Hollow and Del Rey Schools and kindergarten through second grades at Glorietta School.

Sleepy Hollow and Del Rey kindergartens will be divided into three sessions: 8:45 to 11 a.m.; 11 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. and 1:20 to 3:40 p.m

There are already four kindergarten classes in operation at Glorietta School.

Approximately 360 children are attending the seventh and eighth grades at Orinda School.

School Trustees Hear El Toyonal Parents Object

A delegation of residents from the El Toyonal-Orinda Estates area appeared before the Orinda School Board Tuesday night to request that their children be permitted to attend Orinda School.

Kindergarten through third grade children from that area are attending Del Rey School as they did last year.

Trustees explained that they felt it better to keep all the seventh and eighth grade classes together in Orinda School and in order to do so it is necessary for younger children to attend schools which are farther from their homes in some cases.

THEY EXPLAINED THAT the situation cannot be changed now because it would be impossible to shift the kindergarten through third grade from Sleepy Hollow School to Del Rey in order to make the change.

Parents indicated that Orinda was "their school" and that since their children had attended Del Rey last year it is "somebody else's turn this year."

Trustees sympathized with them but explained that the whole situation occurred because of the overcrowded situation in the district.

"WE HOPE TO HAVE another plant by next year," commented Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff, "and that should alleviate the situation somewhat."

Parents also complained because their children were so late in arriving home after school Tuesday. In some cases it took an hour and a half, but the buses did better Wednesday, bringing the children home within a half hour.

Sheaff explained that some of the bus drivers were new and had proceeded slowly, but that the situation would be rectified by the addition of buses to that particular run.

The group is considering appointing a spokesman to meet with Sheaff and the board and possibly submitting a written petition.

ORINDANS UNTIL NEXT JUNE are Charlotte Hradetzky (second from left) of Vienna, Austria, and Paavo Vakeva of Malmi, Finland (second from right), who arrived here last Friday, by arrangement through the American Field Service student exchange system, to spend nearly a year living with Orinda families and attending Acalanes High School. Gathered with them at the home of Mrs. T. D. Sanford, AFS field representative for the Acalanes district, are, left to right, Joyce Hudd, Mrs. Stanley Hudd, Mrs. Sanford, Ernest Poll of Orinda Rotary Club and John Hall. The two 16year-old European youngsters entered Acalanes as seniors this week. Charlotte is living with the Hudds. Paavo is living with the Halls. Foreign Guests Find It's 'A Small World' In Orinda

When exchange scholars Charlotte Hradetsky and Paavo Vakeva left their homes on the periphery of the Iron Curtain one month ago, Orinda was only a hard-to-find point on the map 10,000 miles away.

Today, Charlotte and Paavo are "at home" with their American families and busy with their studies at Acalanes High School. The Austrian girl and Finnish boy are the first teen-agers to be brought here under the American Field Service Foreign Scholarship Program, their trip having been made possible by the joint financing efforts of the Orinda Rotary Club and the local A.F.S. sponsoring membership.

THE ORINDA STUDENTS arrived in San Francisco last week with seven other high school boys and girls from six European countries. Each young visitor will spend the year in a Bay-Area home as guests of volunteer families.

Charlotte, a dainty blond youngster with pretty blue-gray eyes was greeted upon her arrival by her "American parents," Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hudd of 22 Las Palomas and by her new "sisters" Joyce and Tania. Joyce was so eager to welcome Charlotte that she met the bus in Sacramento where she had been visiting the State Fair.

She recognized her new "sister" through the bus window from pictures the Austrian girl had sent during the summer but was unable to board the bus to greet her so rode down from Sacramento ahead of the AFS group and joined the excitement of the general arrival in San Francisco.

PAAVO REPORTED that more than 400 scholarship holders are now in the United States under the AFS program, nearly double the number who came last year. The state of Minnesota alone welcomed 100 high school boys and girls from foreign countries.

Charlotte tells of the international good fellowship which prevailed on the trip over. "So many nations were represented and there were so many different languages and dialects, we found English our one common tongue. Of course, we sang the folksongs of all nations and we

Friday Deadline For EBMUD Board Candidate Papers

Deadline for filing of nominating papers for candidates in the November 2 election of two East Bay Municipal Utility District directors is 5 p.m. next Friday, EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland stated yesterday.

Terms of Louis J. Breuner, board president, and Thomas S. Neilson expire next January. Directors will be elected for four-year terms.

EACH CANDIDATE'S nominating papers must be signed by not less than 500 or more than 650 registered voters in the district. Candidates are elected at large, by all the voters in the utility district. But it is required that each candidate reside in a certain ward of the district.

The wards in which candidates for this election must reside are Ward 2, in which Neilson, of Berkeley, lives, and Ward 3, in which Breuner, of Oakland, lives.

WARD 2 consists of the easterly part of Berkeley, parts of Orinda and Lafayette, Pleasant Hill and all of Walnut Creek and Saranap.

Ward 3 is in Alameda County.

Not included in Ward 2 are the northerly portion of Orinda and the Happy Valley area in Lafayette. These are in Ward 1, where, in Happy Valley, Director William D. McNevin resides. McNevin's term, like those of two other directors on the 5-man board, continues until January, 1957.

Nominating papers can be obtained at Eastman's office at EBMUD headquarters at 512 16th Street, Oakland, and must be returned to his office.

Conference on Special Business Zone To Be Held Monday Morning in Martinez

A conference on details of the Special Business Zone being planned for some 25 acres on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Monday at the County Planning Commission offices in the new County Administration Building at Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez, Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith said yesterday.

Owners of the property will meet with the commission's technical staff, Griffith stated. These owners include purchasers of parcels from East Bay Municipal Utility District.

GRIFFITH SAID he had informed Phil Wagner, EBMUD properties division manager, and Chairman James Hupp of the Orinda Association's Orinda Planning Committee of the meeting. He added that he expected EBMUD and Orinda Association representatives to be present.

Such a conference had been expected to be held this week but, according to Griffith, was not held because county offices were closed on two days—Monday (Labor Day) and yesterday (Admission Day).

A HEARING is scheduled before the Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Wednesday for consideration of revising requirements now in effect for a Special Business Zone.

Griffith explained that the Zoning Ordinance requires a Special Business Zone to be of 20 acres minimum size and under one ownership.

Possible revisions which have been studied by the technical staff are permission for different owners to have property in such a zone and for reduction of the required size.

"Other sections of the county may want to establish Special Business Zones of smaller size than 20 acres," Griffith said.

ESSENTIALLY, a Special Business Zone differs from Retail Business classification in that sites are specifically designated in advance for structures and in that architecture and landscaping are harmonious and integrated.

EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland said yesterday that no further sales of land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road have been made since sale of a 1.57-acre site opposite Orinda School to General Petroleum Company for $49,000.

In a letter to the Planning Commission, dated Monday, Zach Montgomery, Orinda Association president, and Hupp requested an early meeting with the technical staff, to expedite establishment of the Special Business Zone along the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, from the Village to the Crossroads. They stated:

"WE ASSUME that in the preparation of the site plan and the formulation of the ordinance, the commission and its technical staff will call upon Mr. James Campbell, its consultant, for assistance. Such a procedure follows logically from the desire expressed by the commission at meetings on April 2 and June 2 to have Mr. Campbell's advice on this matter.

"As stated in our previous report, to which reference should be made for details, a site plan for the area under consideration should show:

"1. Location of buildings.
"2. General areas for parking.
"3. Points of access.
"4. Landscaping and signs.
"5. The extant property lines.

These elements were outlined in the tentative sketch map presented by your technical staff at your meeting on June 23."

IN ADDITION to General Petroleum, purchasers of land in the section under consideration are:

John and Virginia Snow; Robert Bolman, Jack Buchter and Dr. W. M. Caygill; Allen S. Klein; Charles E. and Marie K. Phillips; Standard Oil Company; Shell Oil Company.

Two small parcels are still for sale, according to McFarland.

Traffic Shifts To North Side at Interchange Today

Freeway construction at Orinda Crossroads has progressed to the point where traffic will be shifted over to a portion of the new construction along the northerly side of the present state highway, Assistant State Highway Engineer B. W. Booker announced yesterday.

The change-over will be made today, in order to clear the present roadway area for the construction of the remaining half of the separation structure and connecting ramps.

THIS SWITCH WILL result in east-bound vehicles making left turns from Mt. Diablo Boulevard at Orinda Crossroads changing to the cloverleaf pattern of turning off to the right on the interachange ramps.

Until the remaining portion of the separation structure is completed, left-turning vehicles and cross-traffice will travel across the highway with the aid of a temporary traffic signal which has been installed a short distance to the east of the original intersection.

DIRECTIONAL SIGNS have been installed indicating the routes to be followed for the various movements at this intersection.

To facilitate smooth operation during the period immediately following the change-over, motorists turning off at this intersection are urged to drive in the proper lane and carefully observe the directional signs.

Board Grants 2 Land Permits, Holds One Over

Two land use permits were granted by the Board of Zoning Adjustment Tuesday night and one was held over for further study.

Granted were the following applications:

Leslie W. Niemi for 10 foot setback for car port located on Lot 66, Moraga Manor, fronting 55 feet on the south side of Valley Drive approximately 300 feet east of Orchard Road.

G. S. DODGE for 15 foot setback for residence located on lot 305, Sleepy Hollow Unit No. 3, fronting 80 feet on the south side of Sleepy Hollow Lane approximately 700 feet west of Lombardy Lane.

Taken under advisement until Tuesday night was the application of Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Olson to eliminate setback for car port and six foot setback for residence located on portion of lot 20 and all of lots 21 and 22, Block "Q" Lake Orinda Highlands, Unit No. 1 fronting approximately 217 feet on the south side of Alta Vista.

THE BOARD RECEIVED several letters from nearby residents who feared that granting of the permit would not leave sufficient right-of-way for Alta Vista.

However, a representative of Olson said that the matter had been investigated and there would be no interference.

The representative was instructed to talk with residents and appear again Tuesday.

Host Swimming Party for GOP

Orinda Young Republicans are completing plans for their swimming party to be held Saturday afternoon and evening, September 18. The lovely home in Sleepy Hollow of Jim and Betty Irwin has been made available for this gay affair.

There will be swimming starting at 3 p.m. followed later by an "Aquacade Originale," then dinner and dancing. Interested persons are invited to make reservations immediately with Mrs. Wayne Bentley, Clifford 4-3640.

Others working on details are Mesdames Joe Creighton, Robert Pridemore, Kay McGuire and Melvin Colwell, and Bill Anderson and Dick Paltenghi. Dr. Ron Light is president of the local YR group and Mrs. Duane Neuenschwander is secretary.

Sewer Use Fee Discussion Postponed By Directors Until After January 1

Further discussion of a sewer use charge was postponed until after January 1, 1955, by Central Contra Costa Sanitary District directors last week.

The vote to table the matter was unanimous, but Director Ernest Spiegl who had asked that the matter be placed on the agenda was not present at the September 2 meeting.

The action followed strong objections by Directors M. H. Stanley and Frank Salfingere who maintained it would jeopardize the district in the Clayton Valley annexation election.

Stanley said the district has sufficient funds for this year's program and Director Campbell MacPhail concurred.

"IF NECESSARY NEXT year when our plans are laid and we have decided whether or not to call a bond issue, the people might be for it," said Stanley.

President Irving Roemer said "I am definitely opposed to a sewer use tax, except as a last resort.

"The Clayton Valley election will be held September 28 and 10,000 people will decide whether or not to join our district.

"If they do, they should have a voice in this matter. We should look at Clayton Valley as a possible addition. We couldn't go wrong by postponing action until they have decided whether to join us or not."

Roemer said he understood Spiegl to mean that the primary use of such a tax would be for the solution of the problem in the Orinda area.

"WE HAVE AN EXCESS of $100,000 and I suggest that we spend it in that area. We can make arrangements now so that we can begin work as soon as the next building season starts," Roemer said.

The excess referred to by Roemer is the result of a raise to the 60 cent limit in the district's tax rate effective this year.

He stressed that the problems would only be moved downstream into the Lafayette and Walnut Creek areas and that the completion of the program would depend on a bond issue.

MacPHAIL MOVED that the sewer use tax discussion be tabled until October 1, after the Clayton Valley vote has been canvassed. This motion died for lack of a second with Salfingere and Stanley arguing strongly against further consideration of such a tax.

Stanley moved that the matter be considered after January 1 and the board approved the motion unanimously.

Sunny Skies and Nice Cool Nights

Anonymous Group Bid on Pine Grove; EBMUD Board Will Act on Offer Today

Bith Miss Hollst and Keeffe are San Francisco residents.

ON THE REVERSE side of the return card the following statements appear, with a space before each statement, for checking:

"I favor a plan for a complete 'Shopping Center' in Orinda with adequate parking."

" I approve rezoning the 10 acres for a first class shopping area."

"I do not approve of an enlarged shopping area."

"THE QUESTIONS are 'loaded,' " Hupp declared. "Almost everyone in Orinda agrees on the need for some additional stores. But the people are overwhelmingly against establishment of a large shopping center here. And they are mostly concerned about the possibility of multiple dwellings."

Miss Hollst said that some 2700 postcards were mailed to Orinda residents. She stated: "The overwhelming response is in favor of such a shopping center — about 80 per cent for it, about 20 per cent against it."

However, Hupp scoffed at this report, stating that his Orinda Planning Committee had received about 50 phone calls from local people expressing opposition to the anonymous communication.

"MY FEELING is that an anonymous request should not be answered, at least until further information is forthcoming," he said.

After a phone conversation with Hupp, Miss Hollst said her group "would be glad to work with the Orinda Association."

In a letter to the "Committee for Orinda Center," dated Monday, Zach Montgomery, Orinda Association president, and Hupp stated:

"THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION, which represents all of the many local improvement associations, civic organizations and clubs, Chamber of Commerce, businesses and church groups in the Orinda Elementary School District, appointed, two years ago, a Planning Committee, which committee was constituted for the express purpose of studying the future planning of the Orinda area comprising the Orinda Elementary School District, with particular emphasis being placed on the planning of the central area of Orinda north and south of the Crossroads.

"This committee on February 11, 1954, submitted to the Contra Costa County Planning Commission a complete report of its findings, which included the following information:

"1. Consultant's analysis of proposed rezoning in Orinda, prepared by Francis Violich, city planning consultant, dated February 8, 1954.

"2. Study Plan "A" of Central Orinda.

"3. Study Plan "B" of Central Orinda.

"4. Summary, analysis and interpretation of the questionnaire which was submitted to every sixth resident in Orinda regarding Orinda's future.

"A COPY OF this report is being forwarded to you under separate cover.

"We particularly wish to call to your attention the summary, analysis and interpretation of the questionnaire which was submitted to every sixth resident in Orinda regarding Orinda's future.

"This questionnaire was prepared by Francis Violich, city planning consultant, and Donald Foley, opinion research specialist of the University of California, in consultation with the members of the Planning Committee of the Orinda Association.

"The replies to this questionnaire indicated, among other things, that 84 per cent of the people of Orinda do not desire to have shopping facilities developed in Orinda of sufficient scope to attract appreciable amounts of trade from residents outside Orinda.

"Since your post card does not state who the members of the 'Committee for Orinda Center' are, we ask that you make public a list of the personnel comprising this committee. We also request an opportunity to meet with this committee to discuss any plans they may have."

MONTGOMERY AND HUPP called attention to the fact that the County Planning Commission has denied the EBMUD application for Retail Business rezoning of the Pine Grove.

"If the Orinda Association and the people of Orinda are against our idea, we will withdraw it," Miss Hollst said.

McFARLAND SAID: "The Pine Grove property is for sale 'as is.' Our application for rezoning has not yet been decided by the Board of Supervisors. We will continue to press for Retail Business rezoning of the entire property, including the Pine Grove, as we originally applied for.

"Anyone who buys the Pine Grove will buy it with that application pending."

Miss Hollst said her group would leave the pine trees standing. "We don't have any big supermarket in mind — just a rural community center and shopping center," she said.

REQUEST WAS LEFT by The SUN with Miss Hollst for Keeffe to phone the paper when he returned to his office. No call had been received from Keeffe up to press time.

Names of other attorneys on the door at Room 802, 625 Market Street, were Arthur F. Edwards, Gordon W. Mallatratt and Clifford J. Krueger.

Miss Hollst said none of these three had any connection with the "Committee for Orinda Center" and that Mallatratt had moved away from that address a few years ago.

MALLATRATT, reached at the offices of Rheem Manufacturing Company in Richmond, said he had not been at the Market Street address since 1951, that he is now general manager for Rheem Manufacturing Company and that he is not engaged in the private practice of law.

"I have no connection in this Pine Grove matter," he said. "Neither has Donald L. Rheem or any of the other Rheems."

In a letter to all Orindans, dated Sunday, Montgomery and Hupp stated that circularization of the postcard "is not a project of the Orinda Association and that as of this date the 'Committee for Orinda Center' has made no effort to contact the Orinda Association, nor do we know the personnel comprising the 'Committee for Orinda Center.' "

Orinda Entertains Foreign Guests

compared notes on what we hoped to learn about the United States during our stay."

"I FIRST HEARD about the A.F.S. scholarships when I joined the United Nations Club in my school. We have very few extra-curricular activities," Charlotte said. "But I wanted to know more about how nations can learn to work together, so I joined. I applied for the scholarship because I wanted to find out first hand how Americans feel about the U.N. I hope to go back to our club and tell them ways we can work to promote international understanding."

After her first day at Acalanes, Charlotte ventured the observation that American boys and girls do not seem to be as serious about their studies as do Austrian high school students. "With us, school is mostly very hard work," she said.

Charlotte is looking forward to her high school class in physiology. "I'd like to be a doctor some day and perhaps work with the World Helath Organization of the U.N."

Paavo, whose home is in Malmi near Helsinki has increased to five the number of young people in the Ralph Hall family, 72 Davis Road. Dr. Hall, an entomologist for the U.S. Forest Service is a trustee of the Acalanes School Board. Paavo's own father is a steamship engineer.

THE FINNISH BOY has decided already that "it's a small world." Two days after his arrival he received a phone call from Richmond and an invitation to dinner. A Finnish engineer whom he has never met saw his picture in a San Francisco newspaper and recalled that he had sailed around the world with Paavo's father some years ago.

Mrs. Theodore Sanford, local American Field Service Representative and Orinda Rotarians, headed by Ernest Poll, chairman of the International Student Projects Committee of the local Rotary Club were on hand to greet the newcomers.

In commenting on the fact that Rotary had appropriated $650, the full traveling and scholarship expenses of one student, Poll pointed out that Rotary International has as one of its four principle objectives "The Advancement of International Understanding, Good Will and Peace through World Fellowship."

"EXCHANGE OF students is the best and least expensive way to show to the world what America is really like. Misapprehensions, mostly induced by bad Hollywood movies and gangster stories give a distorted view abroad of daily life in the U.S.A.

"It is possible for these students to do much to promote better understanding by writing letters home and later returning to their respective countries with an accurate picture of our way of life. This is the most effective way of counteracting Communist propaganda."

New Library Board Tells of Plans

The Orinda Library Board, Incorporated, is the official name adopted by the organization now working on plans for a library building in Orinda.

The library planning group, now comprised of members of the Orinda Lions Club and the Orinda Junior Woman's Club, has been meeting throughout the summer to lay the groundwork requisite to the building of a library.

Rudy Rasmussen of the Lions Club joined the group as finance chairman at the August 19 meeting. Rasmussen brings to the Library Board a background of experience in civic and church organizations. Most recently he distinguished himself as the director of the fund raising campaign for the new Orinda Catholic Church.

INITIAL STEPS ARE under way to incorporate the library group as a non-profit organization. Mrs. Ernest Spiegl, Orinda lawyer, has generously offered her services to the group in drawing up incorporation papers.

Area Fans Will Honor Don Ferrarese at Ceremony at Oaks' Ball Park Tonight

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

When Don Ferrarese was a kid in Oakland he played "sandlot" baseball. like a lot of other boys. But baseball wasn't something that he "outgrew."

"Baseball is my profession," the handsome 25-year-old star southpaw hurler for the Oakland Acorns said yesterday.

Tonight at the Oaks' ball park in Emeryville his many friends from this area will honor him with a "Don Ferrarese Baseball Night."

They figure that it isn't enough that the experts agree that the former Acalanes High School four-letter athlete (baseball, football, basketball, track) is definitely major league material.

"WE WANT TO SHOW our admiration and appreciation of Don, who will undoubtedly be a big-league star soon," explained Mel Nielsen, chairman of the arrangements committee. "So we're staging this 'Don Ferrarese Baseball Night' at the Oaks' field."

There will be a brief ceremony about 8 o'clock, shortly before the game between the Oaks and Sacramento gets under way. A presentation will be made to Don by his enthusiastic Central Contra Costa County fans.

TICKETS ARE available at Lafayette Dime and Dollar Store, Lafayette Tire Service, Kustom Studio, Lafayette; Orchard Nursery, Lafayette; Butler Automobile Company, Lafayette; Wilson Plumbing and Supply, Lafayette; American Trust Company, Orinda, and Ferrarese's Liquor Store, Walnut Creek.

They can also be obtained from any member of the committee. In addition to Nielsen, committee members are Ken Jensen, Frank Povich, Jack Hageman, "Skid" Thomas, Gorrill Butler, Dr. W. W. Ornduff, Dr. E. R. Ligon, Lou Borghesani, Erwin Mattson, Tony Prislinger, Jim Shank, Harry Dunham, Vernon Patterson and Andy Rodgers.

Establishments where tickets are on sale have "Don Ferrarese Baseball Night" placards.

BOX SEAT TICKETS, ordinarily $1.75, are $1.25 for this occasion. For children through high school age, tickets are 50 cents each.

Buses will be available, supplied by Blackwood Transportation Company. They will leave Acalanes at 6:45. Round trip tickets are $1 each. Further information on bus transportation can be obtained from Nielsen by phoning him at ATlantic 3-6291.

Organizations actively sponsoring "Don Ferrarese Night" include Lafayette Rotary Club, Lafayette Lions Club, Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, Lafayette American Legion Post 517, Walnut Creek Lions Club, Walnut Creek Elks, Walnut Creek American Legion Post 115 and Acalanes Lodge 723, F&AM.

"I'VE LIKED BASEBALL ever since I was a kid," Don said yesterday. "I played at Bushrod Park in Oakland. Later I played at Acalanes and in American Legion Junior Baseball."

It was at Acalanes that Don started attracting widespread attention. By the time he graduated in 1947 he had chalked up a record as one of the greatest high school pitchers of all time.

THAT AUGUST he was picked by the Oakland Post-Enquirer as the best high school baseball player of the Bay Area and was sent to New York, where at the Polo Grounds he pitched three hitless innings for the United States All-Stars against the New York All-Stars, in the Hearst National Baseball Championship game.

The crowd of over 31,000 cheered wildly as Don and his teammates scored a 13-2 victory. Don, unanimously selected by the judges as the best prep baseball player in the nation, received the coveted Lou Gehrig Trophy.

On his arrival home, Don was given a royal welcome in Oakland and Central Contra Costa County.

"Winning the Lou Gehrig Trophy and being acclaimed here when I returned home were the high points of my baseball activity before I became a professional," Don said.

AFTER GRADUATING from Acalanes, Don attended St. Mary's College for a year and a half and starred in baseball and basketball there. In 1948 he signed up with the Oaks.

He pitched one game for the Oaks toward the end of the season. In 1950 he was farmed out to Wenatchee, Wash.

During 1951 and 1952 he was in the Army, serving in Hawaii with the Medical Corps. He managed the Tripler Army Hospital nine and pitched for it, in the Armed Forces League.

In 1953, having left the Army, he returned to the Oaks. He has been playing with them since them.

THE AMAZING left-hander, who still looks very much like the high school kid of several years ago, is recognized as the Oaks' ace hurler. Not only that, but he consistently bats around .300, and he's one of the first Oaks used for pinch-hitting.

In 1950 Don married Betty Olson, a Wenatchee girl whom he met when he was farmed out to the Wenatchee team.

She didn't know a baseball from a pineapple before I met her," Don recalled with a grin. "But she's become a real baseball fan."

They have a 3-year-old daughter, Cara Lee, and are expecting a second child in a couple of months. They live at 1275 Geary Road, Walnut Creek.

Don's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Ferrarese of 4033 Marianne Drive, Lafayette. His dad owns Ferrarese's Liquor Store at 1507 Main Street, Walnut Creek.

PERHAPS ONE OF the proudest Don Ferrarese fans is Erwin Mattson, Acalanes High School athletics director and SUN sports editor. As Don's prep coach he early recognized the boy's potentialities and encouraged him.

"I've seen many outstanding athletes at Acalanes," "Matt" says. "But Don Ferrarese is one of the best. He's headed for the 'big time' — no question about it!"

That view is shared by thousands throughout the Bay Area. Keep your eye on Don — tonight's "Don Ferrarese Baseball Night" is undoubtedly just a preliminary to nationwide appreciation.

Condon Opposes Abandonment of Sacto-Northern

Congressman Robert L. Condon of Walnut Creek has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to "proceed with caution" before granting the Sacramento Northern Railroad's request to abandon right-of-way between Oakland and Lafayette, it was reported this week.

Three weeks ago the railroad indicated that it would request abandonment of the 15-mile section of track in about 30 days.

IN A LETTER to the commission last week, Condon listed three reasons why he thinks abandonment should be investigated thoroughly.

"In the first place, the Sacramento Northern Railroad, with its present line, is one of the carriers which serves two very important defense installations: Travis Air Base in Solano County . . . and the Port Chicago Naval Magazine . . ." Condon wrote.

"Secondly, there is a general feeling among the people with whom I have discussed the problem that the initial application for a limited amount of trackage foreshadows future applications for a total abandonment of the line between . . . Oakland and . . . Sacramento," he said.

HE ADDED, "Once the railroad is allowed to abandon a portion of the trackage and ship over other lines, the procedure may well be set for a favorable consideration on later applications for abandonment of additional trackage."

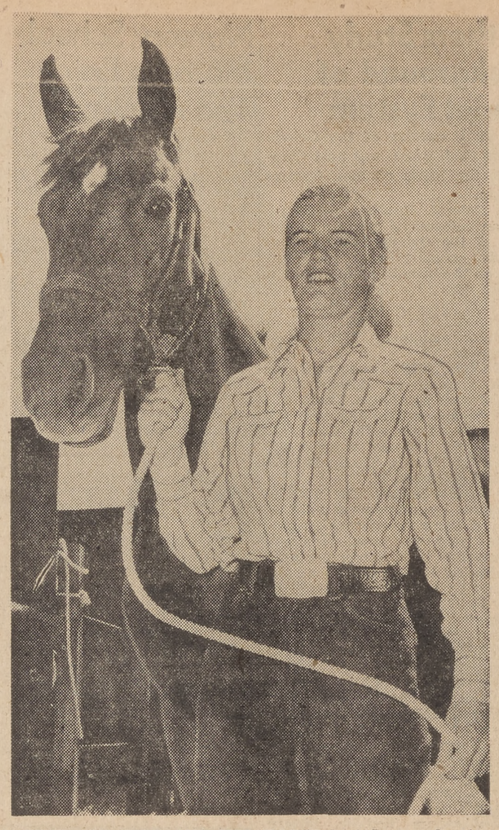
Thirdly, Condon said, ". . . the Sacramento Northern Railroad probably offers the least exposed rail elevation from the San Francisco Bay Area."

He pointed out that the line, as it leaves Oakland, "passes through a residential section which contains no legitimate military objectives in the event of enemy bombardment."

"MOREOVER, their line is, I believe, the shortest line from the Metropolitan Bay Area to the relatively safer area in Contra Costa County," he said.

"I would seem to me, therefore, that the complete and continued full functioning of this line involves important considerations of Civilian Defense," Condon wrote the commission.

He concluded, ". . . I believe that the federal and local Civilian Defense officials should be called upon for a statement of position in connection with the pending application and any future applications involving this railroad. . . ."



A 19-YEAR-OLD GIRL AND HER HORSE bested several veterans over the Labor Day weekend to win the Mt. Diablo Trail Ride. She is Judy Lavinder of Lafayette who became the youngest winner in the ride's 14-year history following judging of her performance on the 75-mile test on her horse "Kayo."

Judy Lavinder Wins Mt. Diablo Ride

Miss Judy Lavinder, 19, of Lafayette became the youngest winner of the Mt. Diablo Trail Ride in its 14 year history as her performance on the 75-mile test over the Labor Day weekend was judged best.

The award was presented by Mrs. Prosper Olivera, official of the Concord-Mt. Diablo Trail Ride Association, after the weekend program that included a horse show, rodeo, dance and other events in addition to the ride up the slopes of Mt. Diablo.

Judging was on horsemanship, condition of the animal at the conclusion of the event and trail abilities of both rider and horse.

Judy was on "Kayo," the same horse her sister, Sue, 15, road to a junior trail ride first prize in July.

Other local winners included Irving Kraemer of Walnut Creek, eighth in the heavyweight division; and in the junior division, Sue Craig, Walnut Creek, third; Sue Lavinder, Lafayette, fourth; Gail Henderson, Walnut Creek, seventh; Barbara Dean, Walnut Creek, eighth; Judy Fibush, Walnut Creek, ninth, and Cindy Rasmussen Orinda, 10th.

2 Sanitary Board Members Will Be Elected Sept. 20

Two four-year directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District will be elected at a special election September 20.

Four candidates have filed for the two posts. They are, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot: Campbell McPhail, an incumbent; M. H. Stanley, incumbent; Raymond W. Fisher Jr. and Richard J. Mitchell.

THE INCUMBENTS, McPhail and Stanley, both received their board posts by appointment. Stanley replaced W. W. Malott who resigned some 18 months ago; McPhail replaced Elliott Johnson, former board president, who retired early this year.

Johnson's and Malott's terms of office would have expired this year; thus the special election has been called. The other three board members—Chairman Irving Roemer, Ernest Spiegl, Frank Salfingere—will be up for re-election in 1956.

Mitchell lives with his family at 1672 Mary Drive in Gregory Gardens. He is a chemical engineer with California Research Corporation.

FISHER, a civil engineer with Kaiser Engineering Company in Oakland, lives at 90 Meadow View Road, Orinda, with his wife and two daughters.

Stanley, a retired business man, lives at 1200 Martino Lane in Lafayette.

Next week The SUN will print statements from each candidate for the Sanitary District board.

Figures Indicate Polio Slow Down

A slow down in the rate of polio cases occurring in the Lafayette-Walnut Creek-Orinda area may be indicated by a downturn in the number of cases reported this week.

Only two, both in Walnut Creek, had been reported as of Wednesday, according to the County Health Department.

However, the year's rates are still high. A total of 56 cases have been reported in the area to date this year compared to 12 for a comparable period last year.

A total of 185 cases have occurred in the county so far this year which is compared to 44 last year.

Another encouraging fact is the statement issued this week by Acting County Health Officer Dr. Y. Togasaki who said: "Though the incidence of polio is high, . . . based on figures so far, a smaller percentage of cases this year are of the paralytic type."

Paralytic polio is almost 18 per cent lower this year and the number of deaths was over three times as many in 1948, she pointed out.

Christian Science

The practical value of understanding God as the source of all true substance will be stressed at services Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (301:17-20): "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter."

From the Bible will be read the following passages from Psalms (37:3-5): "Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass."

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

NOW IT HAS BEEN CONFIRMED — we have suspected it for quite a spell but a man actually admits it — the men have the best of it!

At the Arthur Pederson's home in Sleepy Hollow — right in front of 45 women and Mr. Pederson, Mr. George Johnson, an amateur expert on begonias advised the members of the Orinda Garden Club that — if you want beautiful blossoms you just have to ditch the ladies — they are the smaller blossoms on each side of the georgous (and in some instances ruffled) gentlemen.

So — snip off the dainty feminine flowers and then He gets the best of it — the whole darned begonia for breakfast, lunch and dinner — no sharing with this boy — and then he just blooms all over the place.

Incidentally the Pederson's house is a little dream. Originally a tiny cottage they have added glass enclosed area, a sweet garden, and a car load of exquisite antiques, lustre ware and modern plumbing and there is no spot for miles around quainter or more attractive on a sunny morning when the fog is sitting on its customary spot atop the nearby hills.

Something like the 'foggy, foggy dew?'

That fog phenomena, by the way, was carefully explained to us, as new arrivals in the area, by Victor Beauchamp who was at that time a gentleman dealing in real estate. He looked us right in the eye and announced that the fog stayed on top of that range of hills and didn't come into Orinda — and we looked him right back and said there was nothing like that in Southern California — and frankly — well Mr. Beauchamp was very nice but, heavens, how was a body supposed to believe a yarn like that!

Fancy our befuddlement to discover he was absolutely right but we are still mystified as to the reason — something about pressure areas — but we think it is just a lot of hot air (coming from our house on Mondays maybe — that's column day).

And let's make no bones about it!

Have you washed and ironed your fish eating clothes yet? Because you will certainly want to eat fish on Saturday the 18th at the home of the Vad Jeltons in Happy Valley. Under the gentle guidance of Mrs. Fred Borden, prexy of the Orinda Branch of the Children's Hospital, the following ladies are scurrying around with preparations. Mrs. Thomas McGuire in chage of food (salmon baked in pits in the orchard, corn wrapped in foil, tossed green salad, Italian bread). Mrs. Emmet Kilpatrick, refreshments (your guess is as good as anybody's on that one). Shirlee Jurs, box office — Mrs. William McNevin, properties, Mrs. Frank Fee Jr., table decorations, and Mrs. Edward Dougery obtained the following entertainment: to wit:

Pepe Landeros with his violin will wander amongst the guests making lovely background music courtesy of Don Thompson and his Cape Cod Restaurant — later Wilbur Barranco who not only gives music courses at the university but can play a piano to make your toes bounce and take your mind off Liberace, by courtesy of Jay Bedsworth and the Tunnel Inn. Music for dancing will be through courtesy of the Bay Area Musicians Union — Local No. 6. Mrs. Stephen Jensen is general chairman of the event.

ARENT-GRANDMOTHERS something. When the stork began stamping around on the roof of the daughter and son in law of a local lady awhile back she thinks — Humph, time to get out the family antique cradle and redecorate same. She created a confection of pale yellow taffeta and white organdy ebroidered with yellow roses and then woke up to the fact that a HE child could certainly snafu that picture in short order.

The concern was unnecessary. The stork must have reduced his altitude to ground level and peeked in the window to see Mrs. Fred Goodwin working on the cradle because he left off Kathy Falge — daughter of Kay and Bob Falge — weighed six pounds and two ounces July 31 and she has looked adorable among the yellow ruffles ever since.

Once around the links with the golfers

There will be even more good golf than usual going on around here because the Peter Patches are moving from Berkeley to their new Lafayette home on Rancho Road. Or will that be reverse action — you don't suppose country life will steer them onto a course which eliminates the lawns of the golf course in favor of the lawn patch at the Patches!

And speaking of golf courses — the Donald Lawries built a lovely home on the eighth tee and then — in true contractor fashion — the minute the curtains were hung they started adding on a room — then tearing it down — in order to add a fireplace they had forgotten — then putting it back together and then — after all that they practically left town for the summer.

Jimmie, aged eight, held forth at Laurel Glen Camp at Santa Cruz which is operated by Pat and Allan Medlin who used to be such important cogs in the Orinda Union School. The Athonsen and Peddar boys were also there. T'was a fisherboy's delight because the creek was so plentifully stocked they were limited to three trout per day. Baby Sharon even paid the camp a visit.

In the meantime — Mother and Father Lawrie were galavanting around Lobos Lodge at Carmel, the Tahoe Biltmore, Cal Neva where they watched Sophie Tucker and the Mills Brothers at work, the North Shore Club at Reno where they watched BoBo Rockefeller who wasn't working at all, Alisol Ranch, and with the time left they cruised the bay in their boat the Holganza with the most energetic crew you ever heard of — Dinger and Billy Klement.

THE PIERCE MILTONS have returned from New York and are now at Tahoe.

Mrs. Pat Kierulff (Pat Reed) recently married John Norris of Berkeley and they plan to live in Pasadena — or elese it is the other way around — can't read my notes.

Mrs. Phoebe Zimmerman and two daughters are living in Japan and doing much traveling in Europe and the Orient because the versatile Pheobe is a buyer for stores in Guam where they have been living since leaving here.

Our Eastern correspondent says . . .

And now to go East instead of West like we just did with the Far East — the James Keresys who have been living on Long Island, temporarily they thought, are evidently going to stay. The Wayne Caygills are all tucked away in an apartment in Chicago where an adult can collect more dirt on his feet than a child scampering around the Contra Costa hills all day and we trust the Chicago Chamber of Commerce does not read this column.

The E. L. Hedemarks recently flew to Boston and Cape Cod. The day before departure we saw Mrs. Hedemark in one of the local meat and vegetable dispensaries trying to take care of an enormous list of chores necessitated by the forthcoming trip. Then — we saw Mr. Hedemark leisurely strolling the golf course — just like we said — the men always get the best of it.

They (men) are giving dinner parties. Peter Sheaff entertained for Chuck Gompertz and Harvey and Philip Lowthian before their recent Navy cruise. Also Roger Dunn is home from his cruise and Herbert Dwight Jr. was home over Labor Day weekend between Navy hops.

And it wasn't a dirty trick, either!

What would you do if somebody presented you with a gift box full of dirt with no explanations? About 60 friends of Laura Cooper gathered on the sly at the Park Pool last Saturday evening for a surprise party by way of being a house warming for her new Loma Vista home. They made sure she would be home by working a deal with Mrs. George Kirby who asked Laura to keep an eye on her two small sons — so — as always happens at surprise parties the surprisee was caught in a kitchen apron. Anyway the caravan of guests arrived bearing gifts — a complete supper for all, a coo-coo clock and the little box of dirt. Finally light dawned — they, being good and practical friends, were sending three loads of top soil for her new lawn — to arrive on Tuesday morning.

A festive party to launch a lady in her new home.

That is all.

GOP Women Start Meeting Again

Orinda Republican Women's Club will resume regular monthly meetings Thursday, 10 a.m. at Orinda Community Church.

Mrs. Gladys Penland, Northern Division president of the California Federation of Republican Womens' Clubs, will speak on "What Does a Political Club Offer You?"

Club members and their friends are invited to a Koffee Klatch at 9:30 a.m. which will precede the meeting. Coffee and snacks will be served under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Welch.

Mrs. Thomas Barrows, president, cordially invites all Republican women in the area to attend the Koffee Klatch and meeting.

Mrs. Charles Smith reminds members that a prize of a pound of coffee will be given to anyone bringing in 10 new memberships.

Mrs. Smith has been conducting a membership drive throughout the summer.

Echo Lake Vacation

Mrs. E. P. Wayne, daughter Linda, and an Oakland friend, Mrs. Joanne Best spent a delightful week at the Waynt cabin on Echo Lake recently. Mr. Wayne drove them there, stayed for the weekend and accompanied by Mr. Best, returned for them the following weekend.

All enjoyed the peace and seclusion of their part of the lake.

Park Pool Team Beats Cowboys by 203-127 Splash

The Orinda Park swim team crushed the visiting Livermore Aquacowboys, 203-127, in a dual swim meet at the Park Pool last Sunday morning.

Orinda was particularly strong in the younger age groups in all events, which included freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly races.

Two Orinda girls won four races each and in every case set new Park Pool records. These youngsters were Dru Dunshee in the 7 and 8 year old group and Joyce Bailey in the 9 and 10 age group.

In all, 12 Orindans set 23 new records. Warren Webster, Dave Texdahl, Mike Kersten, Bob Boyle, Susan Schwatka, Diane Kersten, Sheri Elder, Val Geissler, Georgianne Watkins and arry Pilcher broke pool Lrecords in one or more events.

WEDNESDAY EVENING the Park Pool held its annual awards meeting for the year. All members of the swim team were presented with block "O's" for participating during the past season. Those members of the swim team who broke Park Pool records were presented with beautiful silver medals, emblematic of their achievements.

Glynn Smith, life saving instructor at the pool, presented Red Cross Life Saving Emblems to all who had passed their tests.

The trophy for the boys 14 and under Pacific Coast Freestyle Relay Championship, won by the Orinda team composed of Dixon Farmer, Mark Littlejohn, Smed Ambler and Val Geissler, was prominently on display and the boys took their bows.

HIGHLIGHT OF the evening was presentation of three perpetual trophies donated by Park Pool Coach Bob Edwards. These, known as the Edwards Perpetual Trophies, were awarded as follows:

1. Outstanding achievement for swimmers 8 years and under, to Dave Texdahl.
2. Outstanding swimmer on the team, to Bob Boyle.
3. Award for outstanding sportsmanship, to Sheri Elder.

All members of the swim team were treated to hot dogs and cold drinks.

Tomorrow and Sunday a few members of the Orinda swim team will travel to Sacramento to participate in the Junior Olympics being held there over the weekend.

X-Ray Unit to Stop in Orinda

A Chest X-Ray Unit will visit Orinda September 23, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Orinda Crossroads.

Members of the Orinda Mothers Club will staff the unit. This is a fine opportunity to safeguard the health of all members of your family at no cost to you, commented Mrs. Cappy Champion, publicity chairman. Be sure and mark this date on your calendar, she asked.

Mothers Club Prepares For 'Welcome Teas'

Due to the tremendous growth in the population of Orinda, the Orinda Mothers Club will hold two Welcome Teas this year.

The Welcome Teas are for the purpose of greeting the new teachers and new members of our community, as well as a chance to meet the Mothers Club Board and renew old acquaintances.

The first tea will be held at the beautiful home and gardens of Mrs. Frank Teasdel at 13 Virginia Drive Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m. This will be for the mothers and faculty of the Glorietta and Del Rey Schools.

THE TEA FOR Sleepy Hollow and Orinda Schools will be one week later, September 21, at the lovely home of Mrs. Walter Boysen, 33 Lombardy Lane.

Mrs. Charles Nelson, general chairman for the Glorietta-Del Rey tea, will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Erickson, coordinator for Del Rey; Mrs. Robert Beconcini, coordinator for Glorietta; Mrs. Roy Pearson, room mother chairman for Glorietta and Mrs. Harold Cannon, room mother chairman for Del Rey.

Hostesses will be the fifth and sixth grade mothers from both schools. Mesdames Thomas Raymond, William Harsha, William Cary, Kenneth Nattress and Charles Nelson, room mothers, will have charge of refreshments and serving.

The tea for the Orinda Union and Sleepy Hollow Schools will be chairmaned by Mrs. Miles Hudson. Mesdames Harold Hartsough, coordinator, and Ted Schilling, room mother chairman, both from Orinda Union School; Francis Gillespie, coordinator, and Harold Caldwell, room mother chairman, from Sleepy Hollow School will assist Mrs. Hudson.

THE ORINDA EIGHTH GRADE mothers will be hostesses under the direction of room mothers Mesdames Angus McLeod, Robert Neuhaus, Bruce Anderson and Miles Hudson.

The Welcome Teas, held each fall, have become a delightful tradition, to which all Mothers Club members look forward. All mothers of Orinda school children are invited. Mothers new in the community are particularly urged to attend, as this is planned as a way to become acquainted with fellow Orindans.

GREETING GUESTS will be Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of schools; Mrs. Coleman Huntley, president; Mrs. Vernon Axelson, vice president; Mrs. George Drysdale, treasurer; Mrs. James Seaman, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Lohse, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Miles Sutliffe, board adviser.

Also in the receiving line will be Mesdames Harold Hartsough, coordinator for Orinda School; Ted Schilling, room mother chairman for Orinda School; Robert Beconcini, coordinator for Glorietta School; Roy Pearson, room mother chairman for Glorietta School; Charles Erickson, coordinator for Del Rey School; Harold Cannon, room mother chairman for Del Rey; Francis Gillespie, coordinator for Sleepy Hollow School; Harold Caldwell, room mother chairman for Sleepy Hollow School; Harry Minor, membership chairman; Avraham Yedidia, library; William Kooreman, health; Phillip Champion, publicity; M. G. Hopper, bridge, and Earl Wolder, civic affairs.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE of the Glorietta-Del Rey members in finding the home of Mrs. Teasdel, drive out Glorietta Boulevard, where signs will be posted. The home of Mrs. Boysen, where the Orinda-Sleepy Hollow Tea will be held, is easily located by driving out Miner Road to Lombardy Lane.

Orinda Here and There . . .

By ORINDA MOTHERS CLUB

COME BACK SOON

Neighbors of Colonel and Mrs. William Phillips of Rita Way in the Del Rey district will be sorry to hear of their departure, which it is hoped will not be permanent. William is on his way to an 18 month tour of duty in the Far East, and Ramonde to her home in Paris, France.

A BUSY BIRD

Can't figure out how the stork finds time to make stop-overs anywhere else in Orinda when the people on Lavina Court (one block long, mind you) seem to have a corner on the baby market.

The latest to arrive is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Veale of 25 Lavina Court. Robert Thomas was born August 27 at Kaiser Foundation Hospital. The Lyle Glasgows across the street at No. 24 are also mighty proud of their little adopted Dana Louise, born October 25 and welcomed by big brother, Gordon. Then very nearby at 18 Lavina Court Jack and Jean Warner announced that their basketball team is nearly completed.

Little Clifford Ross joined brothers Mike, Larry and Randy on April 29. All with darling freckles, too. Then on March 4 Dr. and Mrs. Paul M. Weber welcomed little Steven Alec, who was preceded by a next-door neighbor, Mary Christine, who was born to Dr. and Mrs. John K. Hansen last January.

And latest rumor has it that there are two more enciente ladies on this same street. Wonder if their mortgage contracts are worded differently, or if they're just triying to set a record of some kind!

AND ANOTHER

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Duppenthal of 22 Ivy Drive are happy to announce the arrival of Mark Lewis on June 23. He joins a sister, Anne, and a big brother, John. The Rupenthals moved here from Oakland last May.

HELLO, FRIEND

The Louis B. Harmons, formerly of Park Ridge, Illinois, are in the process of moving into their new home at 63 Donna Maria Way. A warm welcome to them and to their sons Bill, 12, and Peter, 8.

NORTHERN TRIP

The Olympic Peninsula in the state of Washington was the scene of a wonderful vacation for the Thomas Klings of Rita Way. In addition to the usual fishing, swimming and mountain climbing, their small fry particularly enjoyed combing the fascinating beaches on the northern coast of Washington near Port Angeles.

NEWCOMERS

The David Youngs are brand new in our community, having moved from Albany to their new home at 28 Ivy Drive in August. They have two sons, Stephen and Frederick.

Book Review to Entertain Women

The Women's Guild of Orinda Community Church will meet Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. for luncheon, a program, and an important business meeting.

Section one will hostess the luncheon which will be 50 cents as it is served to promote fellowship and not to raise funds. Devotions will be led by Mrs. W. M. Brobeck.

The program is an outstanding one and will feature the charming and well known Mrs. Stuart Le Roy Anderson who will review a delightful new book, "Unto a Good Land" translated from Swedish by Vilhelm Moberg.

During the business meeting the varied plans of the activities, entertainment, dinner etc. of the approaching Fall Festival Saturday, October 2, will be announced.

Mothers Study Background of School System

The first meeting of the Orinda Mothers Club Board was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Erickson.

Mrs. Colman Huntley, president, gave an interesting resume of the origin of the Orinda Schools. Particularly amazing were the comments on the growth of the schools. Starting with nine children in 1923, 500 in 1945 and as of this week there are approximately 1800 students registered, excluding high school enrollment.

DUE TO THIS tremendous growth, changes in Mothers Club procedure are inevitable. There will be two Welcome Teas this year for the first time. One for the Glorietta-Del Rey area Tuesday and the second for the Orinda Sleepy Hollow Schools September 21.

The Spring Bonnet Tea will be eliminated, by unanimous vote of the board. For a money-making project this year, the board members recommended by a unanimous vote that a Spring Fashion Show be held, featuring Orinda type clothes.

Four Pot Luck Suppers are being planned for November, Mrs. Huntley announced.

THE BUDGET had the complete approval of the Board.

Board meetings will be held at 10 a.m. on the second Tuesday of each month unless otherwise indicated.

Mrs. Harry Minor, membership chairman, announced that the membership drive will start the week of October 4. New ideas for prizes were discussed.

Mrs. Abraham Yedidia, library chairman, talked on the two Orinda School libraries, one on each side of the Crossroads, and requests volunteer help from about 50 Mothers for Library work.

Residents Told Where to Send Polio Funds

"The need is great, and it is increasing daily. It is for that reason that we are asking people who have not already done so to return their polio contribution envelopes to the Emergency March of Dimes," said Joe Sheaff, chairman of the Emergency March of Dimes for the Orinda area.

Contra Costa County residents were also advised that because of the rapid growth of the county during the past year, it is quite possible that some residents were inadvertently missed when the envelopes were sent out.

"IN SUCH CASES, contributors may place their contributions in an envelope and address it to March of Dimes, Post Office Box 790, Martinez, California; and they may be assured of their gifts reaching our drive headquarters," Sheaff said.

Funds derived from the Emergency March of Dimes are needed to continue the program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

ACCORDING TO Eugene Marshall, county chairman of the polio-fighting organization, the money wil lbe used for the continuance of the organization's three major programs.

They include the care of polio patients while ill, and rehabilitation work; the continued controlled testing of the Salk polio vaccine, and the gamma globulin preventative program.

Hawaii Cruise Over For Four Orindans

Four Orinda members of the Naval Reserve returned Sunday from a two week cruise to Hawaii, which included liberty in Honolulu and Waikiki Beach.

The four men, members of the United States Naval Reserve Surface Battalion, 12-1, 2144 Clement Avenue, Alameda, are P. H. Lowthian, 5 Overhiil Court; J. B. Wiggins, 102 Camino San Miguel; R. E. Osborn, 11 Crestview and P. J. Hergerle, 393 Miner Road.

While aboard ship the men performed regular navy tasks, including gunnery, seamanship, communication and engineering drills.

Osborn made the cruise aboard the USS Nickle, and the other three aboard the USS Johnson.

Drive carefully through residential streets and save a child's life.

Nursery School Mothers Enjoy Tea Meeting

A spacious brick patio overlooking the pool and green lawns of the James Freeman home at 28 Las Cascades in Orinda provided the charming outdoor setting for the annual "get-acquainted" tea given Wednesday for the members and friends of the Orinda Cooperative Nursery School.

Here under the shade of a giant oak, officers for the new year assisted co-hostesses Mrs. J. A. Van Der Haeghen and Mrs. George Fraser in greeting the new and former members of the association.

Others responsible for the success of the tea were Mrs. F. R. Berry, Mrs. Stanley Massie and Mrs. Ned deLaveaga.

New officers of the Nursery School receiving guests at this opening social event were Mesdames Robert N. Hart, president; Forest Hill, vice-president and program chairman; Leonard Roth, secretary; Frank Fuller, treasurer, for the Monday-Wednesday-Friday group; H. Faisst, treasurer for the Tuesday-Thursday group; R. L. Klemedson, maintenance; and John S. Edwards, Lloyd Swayne, and Calvin N. Gold, representatives.

Also acting as official hostesses were committee chairmen appointed for this year: Mesdames Harry R. Camons, membership for the Monday-Wednesday-Friday group; Walter Estes, membership for the Tuesday-Thursday group; Harry Larsen, parent participation; Willard Miller, telephone; Verner Ramsing, education; and David Lewis, dance.

Happy Birthday

DAVID FAYRUM

David Fayrum celebrated his fifth birthday with a group of friends who came for lunch and games August 27.

A cowboy theme was carried out. Friends who joined in the fun were Jay and Leslie Arnett, Bill and Carter Irwin, Cris Mansfield, Jim Campbell, Linda Furtado and the host's little sister Margaret.

CYNTHIA WILFORD

Cynthia Wilford took a group of her friends to Tilden Park for a picnic lunch and games as the weather had turned too cold for swimming as originally planned recently.

Helping Cynthia celebrate her seventh birthday were Erika Deissler, Julie Hickcox, Patty Laher, Leslie Ried, Janice Robertson, Peggy Rose, Carol Ann Bishop, Susan Leftwich and her sister, Lorrie.

Seafarers Enjoy Social Meeting

The Seafarers met last Friday evening at the Fred Elkinton home on Honey Hill Road for an outdoor pot-luck dinner followed by a program in their hobby room.

Twenty-one members and one guest were present. The dinner was served in a redwood shelter with cheerful fire burning on its open side. The surrounding oak trees made a fine wind break. Here, following the dinner the brief business of the club was transacted.

All thoroughly enjoyed the program of colored slides shown by Fred Morrow of his family's month in the High Sierra, regions of unsurpassed mountain, lake, and wildflower carpeted scenery.

Traveling Campers

The Arthur Bowman family spent last week on a camping trip up the Redwood Highway, detouring occasionally to the coast for a change in scenery and finally returning by Carmel.

The light pink Oxford cotton shirt boasts a button-down collar which is set off by a black knit tie. For foot comfort and the final touch of fashion the shoes are Florsheim's newest Lo-Tops in black with a moccasin toe.

To be found at the Pixie Shop in Orinda, the jacket is plaid and the skirt is plain grey. The beanie and purse are navy blue and shoes are from Village Shoe Store in Orinda.

The rolled and notched lapels emphasize the soft look of the material and styling is completed with three buttons, matching pairs of pockets and the velveteen vest. The ensemble is also available in flannel.

THIS WHITE KASHA-MERE sweater is just as soft and warm as it looks and Carol Thomas can see that it will go well with the Dan Gertsman jacket of charcoal glen-plaid. The Dan Gertsman skirt is pleated and the outfit can be found at Claudy's in Lafayette.

THIS THREE PIECE OUTFIT in fashionable charcoal grey flannel will provide Mrs. Louis J. Martinez with many combinations for maternity wear. Available at Expectation Shop in Walnut Creek, the unusual rayon print blouse can also be used as a separate top.

THIS NUDE COLORED COAT will protect you from the chilliest weather and provide comfort and beautiful styling at the same time. Available at Joseph Magnin's in Walnut Creek, Mrs. Reid Gibson has chosen a nude velour hat and umbrella to accentuate the styling. Cocoa colored shoes are also from Joseph Magnin.

ADAPTABLE TO SCHOOL OR DATE is this one piece grey flannel dress from Ogden's Tween Togs in Orinda. Sheri Elder is carrying a little red zipper purse to match the red tie on her dress and she's sure to catch somebody's eye.

RIGHT IN STYLE ARE THESE fashions for school-age youngsters from Klad-Ezee in Walnut Creek. Marilyn Connor (left) is comfortable and smart in a two piece coordinate skirt and blouse. The skirt is dark grey tebilized cotton with pocket detail in red and chartreuse piping on the deep patch pockets contrasting with the light grey shirt waist type blouse with pocket detail and trim to match the skirt. Francie Cashin (right) is happy in the jumper look dress which can be contrasted with a colored blouse to give varied effects or worn with a white blouse patterned after daddy's shirt for a more formal look. Shoes are from Niles-Spears of Walnut Creek.

Brilliant Colors, Textures Highlight Vetter Weaving

A nationally recognized expert in the intricate art of hand-weaving lives at 64 Alder Street in Walnut Creek. She is Vesta Vetter, whose work will go on public view in this area September 18-24 at the Sixth Annual Art and Garden Show in Lafayette.

Housewife Mrs. Vetter began her career as a custom weaver following a six-weeks course at the California College of Arts and Crafts, with no special plan other than to make her newly acquired knowledge a source of income.

NOW HER COLORFUL, gleaming hand-woven upholstery fabrics adorn some of the most magnificent homes in the Bay Area. She is a full-time, one-person operation, and, sought by decorators of the West Coast and written about by national magazines of her particular art.

Most distinctive thing about this sturdily-built, smiling woman with the dark, gray-shot curly hair is her originality in her specialty. She combines every material from parachute silk to wood and often metal glints in her fabrics, which above all are made to function as upholstery as well as delight the eye.

Mrs. Vetter designs material for the specific situation in which it will be used.

"FOR INSTANCE IN AN elegant penthouse, I selected shining rayon yarns for accents in a cotton fabric to complement the highly polished surface of the dark woods in elaborate modern furniture," the artist explained.

"But in a country home where children and dogs have free range of the house, I used sturdy cottons and linens to prevent snagging and blended four values of one color to prevent soil from showing," Mrs. Vetter said.

When owners of a home with many large windows overlooking the ocean wanted to bring the feeling of the view indoors, the Walnut Creek weaver combined the blues, greens, purples and grays of water and sky in upholstery for a large sofa.

Mrs. Vetter's looms take up two rooms in the middle of her house, and a third room is filled with bright swatches of colors. She does much of her own dyeing.

SHE HAS TAKEN MANY prizes in exhibitions, and her newest and most glamorous work will be shown at the art and garden show opening September 18 at the Artists Market, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

Show hours will be from 1 to 9 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, September 18 and 19, and from 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. during the week days following through September 24.

Besides Mrs. Vetter's weaving, exhibits from other prominent weavers of the Bay Area, plus landscape gardening, painting and drawing, ceramics, sculpture, fine printing and screen-printing will be on view in the big show.

The art and garden show is sponsored by Outdoor Art Shows, nonprofit civic group interested in furthering art in the Diablo Valley.

Fashions FOR FALL

SURE TO PLEASE IS this durable 100 per cent lambs wool sweater set from Steele's in Walnut Creek. And its comfort and warmth bring a happy smile to the face of Marlene Shahbazian. The multi-tweed skirt is lined and the whole ensemble is given that last fashionable touch with a wide contrasting belt.

WOOL AND RAYON COMBINE to make this fashionable washable jumper ideally suited for school wear, as Suzanne Stephens knows. Available at Farwell's Children's Shop in Walnut Creek, the ensemble is tailored especially to fit a child's growing figure and is made of the finest materials and with the best craftsmanship. The Peter Pan collar on the white blouse gives the final styling touch.

Variety Is Accented in Fall Sportswear for Men

Fall sportswear for men presents the most varied array of styles and colors offered in many a year.

The broad fashion themes reflect greater use of contrast colors, lighter weights and softer textures.

The new "darker look" carries over into the field of sports coats, where charcoal brown is vying strongly with charcoal gray for style leadership.

MANY OF THE new models feature blends of chocolate brown with black and charcoal gray to achieve a new looking color that has life and sparkle even though dark enough to conform to the current trend.

Brushed surface fabrics in wool and new orlon fleeces add a luxurious touch to many styles of sports jackets.

The latter have a strong functional factor in that they are washable and weightlessly warm.

COMBINATIONS OF knit and fabric ideas in a single jacket are increasingly prominent.

Leather jackets in lighter weights with orlon fleece linings are another popular combination.

A highlight of the sports shirt picture is the wide variety of colorful plaids and checks that afford an enlivening contrast to the solid tones of the sport coats.

THE NEW SLACKS have trimmer and more tapered lines, and feature such style developments as leather trim pockets and belt loops, and contrast colored self-waistbands.

Sweaters with three-way necklines are the fashion news in knitted sportswear.

Less shoe and more fashion is found in this triangular version of the T-strap sandal in calf trimmed suede. At Janz Shoe Outlet, Walnut Creek.

New Costume Jewelry Lavish

The fabulous '20's return — with the extravagent use of costume jewelry for fall.

Long beaded ropes, signature of that era, highlight new collections that feature all varieties of elaborate necklines for important "top interest."

Glamor by the yard, colorful beaded and pearl ropes are worn smartly knotted, in graduated loops or casually bunched in the Chanel manner.

Round, oval, geometrical and faceted beads offer high color in rich autumn shades and smoky pastels or great sparkle when strung with rhinestones.

Handbags Vary Widely

There is little "in-between" when it comes to new handbags.

Fall's favorites will be oversized for daytime and undersized for evening.

They will be covered with elegant passementerie for the late day and totally unadorned for casual wear.

They will be extremely high-colored or extremely subdued. But each will offer a look of finished finesse to its costume counterpart.

Longer-than-short fall coiffures feature feminity. This "comma" bang is styled by Ralph, Tony and Owen.

Fall Fashions Spotlight Easy Lines, Soft Fabrics

Machine-washable sports jacket in nylon with soft, 100% Dacron batquilted lining, nylon faced. Outershell treated with "Zelan" for water repellency. These are featured at Army-Navy Surplus Mart, Walnut Creek.

Beads drape in casual profusion, as the simulated pearl ropes above. Jan's Jewelry, Walnut Creek, carries an outstanding selection.

Comfortable clothes that combine graceful ease with the elements of good design mark this fall as a high point in the chart of fashion.

All categories feature styles constructed toward the modern, active way of living.

Fluid lines invite graceful movement; softened fabrics are classic, comfortable and durable; adept shaping defines the figure without constricting it.

THE FEELING of fall fashion can be called "casual." But it is a "casual" that includes elegance and beauty.

True, lines are simple and economical, and the silhouette is uncluttered.

But there is great finesse in cut and detail, and the great assortment of fabrics includes the rich and lustrous as well as the easy-going flannel and tweed groups.

FOR THE FIRST time in years, fashion embraces styles that women really like to wear and that are becoming to almost every figure.

There is nothing static about fall fashion. Every aspect is easier — increased washability is just one corollary example.

Rather than highlighting any one feature, fall fashions emphasize the feature as a whole.

WAIST-NIPPING gives way to a rounded curve. Hips are generally unpadded. Shoulders and bust-lines are natural. Understated detail and trim are used as focal points.

Top-of-the-costume interest derives from intricate neckline work or variations of the large, soft collar.

Waist focus may appear as a midway bow or as the extended torso that goes the empire waistline one better by dipping into a hip yoke. The corselet look adapts Paris' boned silhouette into an assortment of more mobile ways of hugging the rib cage.

Poufs, middy lines and low pocket treatment bring attention to the hip.

But almost everywhere the main feature is the figure itself rather than any particular body contour.

THIS TISH-U-KNIT SWEATER from Sally's in Orinda is the answer to those chilly days that are coming. Combined with the new beige straight line skirt, all wool with patch pockets, it makes an outfit that gives Pat Bartolero real confidence in her looks and styling. The sweater, in red, is accented by a white little boy collar and cuffs.

New Coiffures Aid Fashions

Slightly longer-than-short coiffures that are not confined to one-way settings will complement many fashion moods this fall.

For the easy-going look of tailored suits and "little" dresses, a feminine coiffure looks best.

Gently waved bangs or face-framing ringlets provide contrasting softness.

More flamboyant dress-up styles take a subdued coiffure. Hair swept back or upwards into clustered curls or waves lends striking simplicity.

Puritan collar combines with easy styling. Modified flair coat of wool and cashmere as seen at Virginia Hammond's in Orinda.

Soft Detail Sparks Fall Separates

The look of fall separates, strongly influenced by the trend to supple ease, features a soft silhouette, free-swinging lines and a great deal of color and texture play.

A new "little girl" look in blouses shares the spotlight with man-tailored shirts. "Little girl" styling features such sugar coating as puffed sleeves, eyelet trimmed button plackets, doll collars and tiny pearl buttons.

Pretty printed cottons, polished synthetics and even organdy-like fabrics are prominent in this group.

Sissy trims feminize boy shirts this season and a smart contrast derives from ruffles and bows played against straight tailored lines.

Menswear shirtings carry out this theme in bold stripes or checks, typical tie patterns or unusual solid colors.

Dresses Feature Slim Silhouette

A supple silhouette makes top dress news.

The shirtwaist, the knit and the semi-knit jersey attain great prominence along casual yet shapely lines.

Prep Grid Play Starts Friday

Don Varsity Cut From 56 to 43, Scrimmages Held

The Acalanes Varsity football squad was cut down from 56 to 43 Monday when a number of players were sent to the Junior Varsity for further seasoning.

It didn't solve the problem of who would start against Piedmont in the season's opener next Friday, however, as a tough battle is on in most spots.

The first scrimmage was held Tuesday and the results were condusive to anything but optimism, as play was ragged from any point of view you cared to take.

ANOTHER SCRIMMAGE session on Wednesday produced improved results and gave the coaching staff a much better insight into player capabilities.

John Conley, one of three returning letermen, showed to advantage with his team direction and ball handling from the quarterback spot.

In the line, Bill Rupley showed to advantage with his aggressive play and jumped to the No. 1 left guard spot as a result.

ANDY FADELLI, a sturdy 195-pound center, appears to be a sharp blocker and may be the key to power up the middle.

The Dons have three better than average fullbacks in Dennis Busby, Dale Marcellini and Sonny Faulk, who will be depended on to come through on the power plays as well as heavy blocking duties.

Example of the concentrated training was a recent double session when the Dons worked out at 8 a.m. and returned for an evening session at 7, with emphasis on team play and getting off with the ball.

FURTHER SQUAD CUTS will come Monday, with a heavy session of practice drills taking place today and Monday.

Positions were so wide open for the most part at this stage of the game that the coaches will not decide on the starting offensive and defensive units until Monday.

High schools have the free substitution rule, and plans call for a heavy run of substitutes, particularly in the practice games in an endeavor to see as many players as possible in action.

Rams Getting in Shape for 1954 Football Season

The Pleasant Hill Rams have been at it hot and heavy the past few weeks as Head Coach Hal Briggs has poured on the heat in practice sessions in an attempt to get the squads in top shape physically as well as to sharpen the timing and play techniques.

Light in weight and experience, the club has an overdose of spirit that promises to carry the club well along in its second year of play.

Last year the Rams competed on the Junior Varsity level, but this year they take a fling at varsity competition in the newly formed league consisting of Antioch, Acalanes, Pittsburg, Pleasant Hill, Diablo and Las Lomas.

COACH BRIGGS announced a tentative lineup for the Alhambra game slated for next Friday under the Martinez lights.

The line, with an overall average of 159, falls definitely in the light category and will depend on splits to break the backs loose.

JIM LYENDECKER shows at left end, with Roger Phillips holding forth at the other flank.

In the tackle spots it's Joe Kokx and George Ingall, while in the guard slots it's Bill Moon and Chuck Van Ummerson, with Jim Thompson taking over at center.

Workouts, which had been on the two-a-day basis, were cut down to one a day with the start of school.

FORTY-ONE candidates are on the current Varsity squad, while 36 Junior Varsity players are put through their daily paces.

On Monday the squad will grow with a bang when 56 report for practice.

Players who have shown to advantage in addition to the tentative starters, are, Bill Nixon at defensive half and Jim Blackburn, a 165-pound linebacker who arrived via the transfer route from Mt. Diablo High.

Deklotz Trains Knight Team for Varsity Action

Head Coach George Deklotz of Las Lomas High has been running his charges hard and heavy, getting ready for the 1954 grid season.

Deklotz's problems have been multiplied by a lack of sufficient gear to outfit all of his hopeful candidates, and he has had to concentrate on the veterans on hand.

"Veterans" is used in a sparing sense, as this is the Knights' first year in varsity play, and all experience has been in the Junior Varsity field of play.

IN THE BACKFIELD he has a standout in Rick Ostrom, who has speed to spare. Rick, as a matter of record, copped the 440 race in the County Track Meet last spring.

Operating from left half he presents a threat as a runner and also as a passer.

In Bob Kinyon he has a hard-slashing runner who, on the basis of workouts, appears to be headed for a good year.

IN THE LINE, standouts have been Webb Johnson, Arne Lundquist and Dick Jordan.

Drills have been for the most part on fundamentals, with special emphasis on blocking and tackling.

Conditioning drills have emphasized plenty of running and a good many pounds of excess have been left on the parctice field.

THE KNIGHTS had a fine season last year, dropping but one tilt, and that a 13-6 affair to the Acalanes Dons.

Their record was better than good, especially considering that it was their first year in league play and that the school's enrollment was limited in size.

Coach Deklotz is still looking, and a definite starting lineup will probably not be decided on until well near game day.

Las Lomas fans will have a chance to see their team under lights this year, as the Knights will play several games at Acalanes Memorial Field, with the climax coming in the finals, when they meet the Acalanes Dons.

CHP Benefit Race Wednesday

Hardtop daredevil drivers will top the bill of the annual benefit show for widows and orphans of the State Highway Patrol when the program gets under way Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Contra Costa Speedway at Pacheco.

William R. Hamilton, benefit show director, said two other features have been added to the big program that annually attracts thousands of car racing fans. A "Destruction Derby" will include death defying crashes and new car models will be on display so the public can inspect virtually every manufacturer's product.

Capt. G. A. Belon, of the California Highway Patrol is general chairman of the annual show and George Sierck is assistant chairman. Fred Norris is secretary-treasurer.

Tonight's the Big Night for Admirers Of Oaks' Star Pitcher Don Ferrarese

By ERWIN MATTSON

TONIGHT IS THE BIG NIGHT for the followers of Don Ferrarese, ace of the Oaks' pitching staff.

Don, a graduate of Acalanes High School, was an all-around prep performer, taking part in football, basketball, baseball and track.

He climaxed a brilliant athletic career by winning the Lou Gehrig Trophy in a New York City all-star game.

The trophy was awarded to him as the game's outstanding performer.

Following his return from New York, a parade was held with a cavalcade of cars accompanying Don from the station in Oakland to the Acalanes athletic field, where a brief ceremony was conducted and a presentation was made to Don.

The parade was organized in three days and was a huge success, thanks largely to the efforts of Lou Borghesani and Gene Perry sports writer on the Oakland Post-Enquirer.

Tonight, Don is being honored again as a member of the Oakland ball club, where he has compiled one of the best records on the Coast.

Rumor has it that he is about to be sold to a big league club. If such is the case, it means that he won't be around this area for some time to come.

The Oakland ball club has offered very attractive rates to ticket buyers for tonight and has provided time for a short pre-game ceremony at the Oaks' ball park in Emeryville. Don will be awarded gifts from his many admirers.

Let's all go on out to the ball game!

PREP FOOTBALL opens its practice schedule next Friday night, and it should be an interesting opener for spectators and players alike.

Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill enter regular varsity play for the first time, and it will be interesting to see what they do.

On the basis of practice reports, they probably will do better than most expect in their first year of play.

Both schools are growing rapidly — and, rest assured, they will make their marks in local prep circles.

The Acalanes Dons lack veteran varsity players but have a healthy condition, with a wide-open battle for starting spots. Only game play will determine team positions.

Look for a lot of interest when any of the three local high schools meet one another.

It's a competition that is bound to be keen, due to the proximity of the schools.

Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill meet in a "biggie" when they play the league opener under the lights of Mt. Diablo High in Concord October 8.

The Las Lomas Knights are scheduled to play a number of games under the arcs of Acalanes Memorial Field.

The Acalanes turf, fortunately, is in fine shape. Practice on it has been kept to a minimum, and the field has prospered under the kind treatment.

Wise shoppers patronize hometown merchants. They save money —and they know that the hometown merchant is interested in the community.

Softball Title Decided Last Night in Crucial

The year's champion team of the Walnut Creek City softball circuit was decided last night after SUN press time as Rick's Drive Inn and Tiny's Hut tangled under the lights.

Both nines entered the final tilt with one game to their credit in the season's deciding, two-out-of-three playoff. The drive-in horsehiders copped the pennant in first half play while the tavern men, champs in 1952, came through to take first spot in second half play.

Rick's won the playoff opener last week as the team knocked out six runs to one for the hutmen. The game was theirs all the way after a first inning lead of 2-0, built on tavern errors.

In the second tilt Tuesday, the hutment smashed out four hits in the initial frame to take a 310 lead. Rick's was unable to send one scorer across the plate as Tiny's added another run, to win the game 4-0.

On the mound, opposing pitchers were Gene Bell of Tiny's and Al Bolender of Rick's for both games and the same hurlers were expected to take over again last night.

PATTER ON THE PARTY LINE

By PATRICIA JELTON

THE TAHOE AREA, Contra Costa's summertime sanitarium, was certainly filled with C.C.'s this past summer. May we recite a small anecdote which illustrates our awareness of same?

Our particular retreat from reality is at Lily Lake, which is above Fallen Leaf which is above Tahoe. Remote? Sure, no gas, lights, telephones, or automobiles; nevertheless, an occasional human appears on the landscape to mar our isolation.

To escape from same, we used our wiles on our fellow isolation seekers, (had particular trouble with father who proclaimed to have no allergy to his fellow humankind — even confessed certain attraction for some), to scale our surrounding peaks and tramp through the wilderness to an honest-to-goodness retreat, which we had remembered from our youth, called Lake of the Woods.

"You'll never spy another living soul," cajoled us, as our fellow travelers exhibited signs of disinterest as the journey prolonged, and it was with great exhaltation that we guided them over the last range and trudged down the posy bordered path to the jewel-like lake. Here true to our aforementioned guarantee, loomed nary a living soul, and hardly a sound except an occasionl finny flip to riffle the waters' surface.

Wonder who was the more surprised?

Noting my companions' seeming dehydration with their tongues lying parched along their chests, we further enticed them around the lake in search of a fresh spring which we had remembered from our our salad days.

Upon our arrival at the landmark such unexpected hub-bub and commotion took place that for the moment we pondered the possibility of having taken leave of our senses via exhaustion of the effects of the sun upon our noggin.

Because what seemed to appear before our weary eyes were little faces, familiar faces, 13 year old boy faces, peering around tree trunks and over bushes, and suddenly the solitude is sundered by an incredulous cry, "Oh, no, it can't be Mrs. Jelton!"

And there before us, Cubs' honor, is the entire Lafayette Boy Scout Troop 223, among them a large portion of the alumni body of our former Cub Scout tong.

Circling around and eyeing us surreptitiously are Perry Amidon, Bill Kulstad, Tommy Beatty, Ricky Dietz, Bob Peerson, Paul Colin, to name just a few, thinking to themselves, "Gad, we didn't know the old biscuit had it in her."

Approaching us and looking not al all Clifton Webbish, is Scoutmaster Barney Rocca, most virile in a three day growth of beard, and chic Tyrolian leather shorts.

Anybody got a shaker and ingredients?

While we are small worlding it with Barney, another contingent of neighborhood kids troop in from Desolation Valley with Barney's assistant, Mr. Meyer, who opines he could do with a drink.

Well, here was a man who spoke our language, so well fell into line but the drink turned out to be ersatz punch concocted by the scouts which was thirst slacking if not soul satisfying.

Well, we enticed our victims through Desolation Valley and over a few more ranges until we had toted up a total of 20 miles before our return to the front porch, and for the rest of the summer pa opined as how tootling around 18 holes at Glenbrook was his limit in the exercise department.

Discovered upon return to civilization that many other pals share this wilderness trail with us. For instance, Lee and Jean Scott were staying at Angora Lake while Rose and Gene Shurtleff were at Echo. By prearranged schedule the head of each household accompanied by his first born, and laden with gear and accessories, met up on the top at Lost Lake where they spent 24 hours fending for themselves in the wilds.

The whole William Freeman family occasionaly walked over from Echo Lake to Fallen Leaf Lodge to visit a special friend and indulge in a banana split.

Gad, we're so full of pent-up kiss and tell type material (lots of it printable, too) that we hardly know where to begin.

A little these and those about peoples

For instance, did you know that Gene Shurtleff was chosen to represent the Eisenhower Foundation in Europe for a year? What do you mean, are they going? You crazy, or something? Up to their ears in the flurry of preparation that's what.

Since our resumption of wearing shoes, our first opportunity to mingle with the low-landers was the poolside party at Orinda Country Club arranged by the directors as a sort of qualifying round for the Show Boat party tomorrow night.

Attended a most scintillating party, (this we really mean), at the Colonel M. M. Garrett's in honor of recently wed Alice (Mrs. Jack Thaler) and Don Perry. The house as you know is modern in structure embellished with lovely Oriental antiques which Edith acquired on recent tour of the Orient, and entrancing Oriental garden complete with arched bridge over creek.

Many groups surrounding Dr. Fletcher Taylor Jr. and his lovely new bride, Margaret, on the brink of setting up housekeeping in San Francisco where Fletcher will continue his medical studies.

New material just moved to Orinda worth cultivating — Pete and Jeanne (St. Hill) Ley who with very small daughter have just taken a home on the dam road, and Arlee and Dick Medcraft who with small daughter and extremely small son are now residing on La Espiral.

The call of the homeland . . . they're returning . . .

And guess what! After these many long years, Emma and Augie Kiesel are returning to Happy Valley with the added prestige of a champion in the family, son Corky having copped a lot of swimming records.

A very chic gathering at which our local country gals emerged miraculously from vacation cocoons to tailored butterflys, the luncheon at Mrs. Kendric Morrish's in honor of Ritchie Smith's sister, Shirley, recent widow of Norman Ingram, down from her home in Ottawa.

Shirley's popularity attested to by constant eager group hovering around her, seeking audience.

WE WERE HELD SPELLBOUND by recital of interesting experiences of Betty (Mrs. A. C.) Helmholz of summer tour of Northern Europe, and of how much territory they were able to cover by expedient of flying from country to country, then touring each by rented car.

Well, we're back on the beat, we guess, with a full schedule of September parties facing us, (one, we hear, to be a Fish Bake in our own back yard on September 18 . . . proceeds to Orinda Branch of Children's Hospital).

This wool jersey dress buttons all the way to the throat but matching rib knit adds a low sweep to the neckline and a disarming shrug to the shoulders by following through in the three-quarter sleeves.

Yes, Lawn Is Many Things for Garden

Variously, lawns have been described as "a velvet green rug," carpeting for your outdoor living room," "the link that unifies house, patio, terrace and garden," and "an economical aid to climate control."

Actually, a lawn is all of these things. And every gardener who desires over-all balance should particularly concern himself with his lawn areas.

Mrs. Harmon Howard to Lead Children's Hospital Meeting

Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek will be chairman of the initial all-branch conference of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay scheduled for Thursday at Berkeley's Hotel Claremont.

Former members of both the hospital board and directors and the executive council of the branches have formed into Board Associates of the Hospital and will sponsor the event.

SIX DELEGATES, one to participate in each of five sub-sections and the branch chairman as delegate at large, will be sent by each adult branch.

In addition, most branches have named alternate delegates to represent the unit in case the regular delegate is unable to attend.

The conference will start at 9 a.m. in the Salem Room with a welcome and instructions for the day. Delegates will then go to section meetings.

TO BE DISCUSSED are fund raising, membership, public relations, hospital branch relationships and how to operate a branch.

A get acquainted hour and luncheon recess will begin at 11:30 a.m. and a summary of section meetings will follow.

Among those participating will be Mrs. Claude C. Gillum and Mrs. Charles Sweet, arrangements; Mrs. George Saxe, reservations and registration; Mrs. Raymond Flint, Mrs. D. Charles Williams and Mrs. Roger Chickering, preparation of exhibits.

Mrs. Francis A. Knapp, public relations chairman; Mrs. Vad Jelton, second public relations group with Mrs. Harry Bruno and Mrs. Eugene Elerding, evaluation.

MRS. ROY LEGGE, membership chairman for the Hospital Association, will lead the section discussing that topic. Mrs. Harry Gibson will assist her and Mrs. Sterling Roberts and Mrs. Donald Kientz will evaluate.

Mrs. Lowell Trautman will lead fund raising discussions assisted by Mesdames John O. Rosefield, Thomas McBride and John B. Hudspeth. Mesdames Robert Hummel, William Jaekle, A. F. Bray Jr., Carson Magill and Norman Spitzer will evaluate.

The operations section will be under Mrs. R. W. Kittrelle aided by Mesdames Benoni McClure, Albert Lid, Bernard Riordan Jr. and J. A. McVittie.

Mrs. Carl V. Whitehouse will be chairman of the hospital branch relations section Mrs. George Mays and Edward Fizsimmons will lead and Mrs. Jack Hughes is evaluator.

Farmers to Vote Committeemen

Lorens M. Foard, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee of Contra Costa County has announced that the ballots for the 1955 Community Committee election were mailed out from the county office September 2.

All eligible farmers are urged to mark their ballot and return them immediately to the county office but no later than midnight September 12.

Any farm owner ,operators, tenants or share-crop farmers who did not receive a ballot are urged to call at the county office at 1726 Bonanza Street, Walnut Creek, to obtain a ballot for their respective community.

Will Give Color

When you start thumbing through bulb catalogs, preparatory to planting for early color next spring, put a check mark by Anemone and Ranunculus.

The showy shades of blue, red and white provided by Anemone flowers will be excellent in your rock garden and borders.

Ranunculus' camellia-like blooms in yellow, orange and red shadings will provide strong color contrasts when placed in borders with a selected assortment of annuals.

Everyone a Lifeguard in This Home

Mt. Diablo Chapter, American Red Cross, boasts probably the "safest" family of any Red Cross chapter in the country.

Miss Emily Williams of Walnut Creek, who has just completed an intensive week's training at Lake of the Woods camp near Medford, Ore., is now a water safety instructor.

Her father, Frank Williams, is the well-known first aid instructor and first aid chairman of Mt. Diablo Chapter. He holds the first Red Cross certificate in first aid instruction ever issued to a layman in the State of California.

Prior to 1915, the year he received his credentials, only doctors and nurses could be named Red Cross first aid instructors.

Mrs. Williams is also a first aid instructor and is her husband's assistant in all his classes since his sight failed him in recent years.

To complete the circle, Frank Jr. is a first aid instructor, too, and is connected with the safety department of Pacific Intermountain Express. He directs their first aid instruction division, whose responsibility it is to train all their drivers in special first aid techniques peculiar to the problems truck drivers will meet on the road.

Miss Williams would have returned from Oregon with a first aid instruction certificate as well as the related water safety, but, unfortunately, both courses were given concurrently, so she will have to wait until next year to complete her Red Cross instruction.

DO IT YOURSELF

Wordsworth Knew Daffodil Beauty

"A crowd, a host of golden daffodils, fluttering and dancing in the breeze," said the poet Wordsworth.

And surely this bulb flower in lovely variations of yellow, orange and white has often inspired men of far less poetic mettle than Wordsworth.

Daffodils — the English name for narcissus — are greatly thought of as spring flowers. But here in California there are varieties that will bloom from December well into summer.

Hawaiian Luau

A Hawaiian Luau will be staged by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board September 13 at 6 p.m. in Chubby Humble's Pioneer Inn in Clayton.

Tickets at $3.50 each are available from Bob Clough, chairman, Chili McCall, Don McLean, Gerry Archer, Linden Sherk, Ray McCoy, Bill Riggs, Bob Mueller, Walt Frieberg, Lloyd Holton, Les Felting and Charlie Greer.

Plant Sweet Peas Now for Spring

The sweet pea began its long voyage to California gardens when it was taken from Sicily to England by a monk in 1699. One variety of modern sweet pea developed as a "sport" or offshoot of this flower in the Earl of Spencer's garden in 1901 — hence the name "early and late flowering Spencer."

Planted now sweet peas will thrive next spring if several simple rules are followed.

First, sweet peas send their roots deep in search of water. Prepare for a deep root run when you set the seeds.

Though these flowers like plenty of moisture, they are sensitive to a water-logged soil — so go easy on the watering.

The vines should be given support or the plants may decide not to be climbers after all.

Here's Latest Checklist Advice

This week's Garden Checklist suggests that:

1. Most lawns will benefit by a prewinter application of balanced commercial fertilizer.
2. Plant now in the vegetable garden: Carrots, beets, turnips, garden peas, lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, Brussel sprouts and onion sets.
3. Set out in bedding plants for winter or spring bloom: Stocks, snaps, pansies, baby primrose and calendula.
4. This is a favorable time to set out all types of container grown ornamental shrubbery.
5. Plant the seed of winter flowering sweet peas.

Mrs. E. Wynne Newell entertained the members of Acalanes Chapter, DAR, of Lafayette at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley August 30.

This was the first meeting of the chapter for the new term and was well attended with 28 members.

Mrs. Harvey B. Lyon, regent, called the meeting to order and regular rituals were observed, after which prospects for the year ahead were discussd.

Plans for the annual Christmas affair were made and as Camp Stoneman no longer exists it was decided to make Juvenile Hall in Martinez the recipient of gifts of cookies, candies, etc.

Spotlighting the Strip

By KITTY COLE

The polio drive in our area was quite an event, with the MARCH OF DIMES coffers enriched considerably.

Many of our talented localites, as well as professional musicians from the "tunnel strip" clubs, entertained on the steps of the LAS PALMAS, which, by the way, is becoming our most popular "outdoor stage."

Pre-election rallies, Walnut Creek Festival events and many other events are held here.

Centrally located, and with a large portico, it's a natural for such activities.

Many prominent citizens risked their necks on our traffic-jammed Main Street to offer collection boxes to passing motorists for donations. I gave, both going and coming back, and was glad to pay Saturday's street toll to aid in the study and research necessary to rid our land of this crippler.

Having had polio as a child and recovering completely via the Sister Kenny treatment, I can appreciate the importance of the MARCH OF DIMES.

ROSEMARY and FREDDIE BOLOGNA of the PIZZERIA, off for a fishing trip with RICHIE'S RUTH and JACK BAKER.

Speaking of RICHIE'S, did you ever try their brandied peach ice cream? Personally I've never run across any until I went into RICHIE'S.

ATTENTION: VOODOO VILLAGE, BERTOLA'S and any other restaurant with Italian cuisine. Jack has a terrific recipe for spumoni.

This next item I got from the Examiner and reprint, in case you don't read Ivan Paul's column, and I quote: "Some of JAY BEDSWORTH'S "pals" phoned him a few eves ago that a couple of Chicago gangsters, in town, were on their way to his place (TUNNEL INN) for drinks and dinner and he'd better be careful. BEDSWORTH phoned the Contra Costa sheriff's office. Four plain-clothesmen rushed out and spread around awaiting the "gangsters." They never showed up, the "pals" had their laugh — and it cost BEDSWORTH $100 to entertain the deputies."

Sight of the week: DICK DAVIS painting panels of varied hues on the dining-room wall at RANCHO GRANDE. I left when he began mixing a turquoise to go next to a chartreuse panel.

Said DICK, "Just wait 'til it's finished, and you'll see how attractive it will be." That's what the man said.

Robert Boyles Introduced as 'KOVR Family'

Television Station KOVR Channel 13, when it went on the air Monday evening at 7 o'clock introduced the Robert Boyle family of 11 St. James Court, Orinda, as representing all families of Northern California "receiving snow-free TV reception for the first time."

The Boyles were chosen to appear on the opening program of Channel 13 because, according to the station, they, "like so many thousands of other Central California families have been patiently waiting for good, crystal-clear TV reception for seven long years."

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, who have four children—two boys, 10½ and 7½, and two girls, 5½ and 3½—take an active part in community affairs.

Mr. Boyle is a member of the Board of Directors of the Orinda Association. Mrs. Boyle is active with teen groups, community drives and other civic projects.

The Boyles' two sons are both expert swimmers and between the two of them hold many AAU Junior swimming awards.

The Boyles like to do things as a family. When they go fishing, everybody goes; when there is gardening work that has to be done, everyone pitches in.

The KOVR transmitter is atop Mt. Diablo.

3 Firms Could Buy Sac-Northern

"Junking" of some 15 miles of Sacramento Northern track from 40th Street and Shafter Avenue, Oakland, to West Lafayette station is now apparently more than ever a plan of Western Pacific Railroad.

Although application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the tracks may not be filed for a couple of months by the trustees in bankruptcy for Sacramento Northern, the trustees still intend to file such application and then sell the property to the highest bidder.

The highest bidder may very probably be Western Pacific, since WP owns the outstanding stock and bonds. And Western Pacific has repeatedly stated its intention to sell the trackage for scrap.

Harry A. Mitchell, former president of Sacramento Northern and of Western Pacific, and now a trustee in bankruptcy for SN, says he doesn't believe there is much likelihood of future use of the SN tracks for resumption of commute service.

One basic conclusion seems obvious, out of all the complicated, prolonged details. That is that the people of this area should not allow this railroad trackage to be wrecked.

That has been the essence of The SUN's attitude on this matter for several years.

It would be a great disservice, to put it mildly, for any of the tracks to be torn up, at least until full plans for rapid transit have been completed.

A rapid transit survey is now under way by the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission. (Incidentally, Mitchell is chairman of the commission.)

A proposal for establishment of a public transprotation district in the East Bay cities served by the Key System has been mentioned recently.

We don't want to sound pessimistic, but it seems to us that concrete action on establishment of such a district or of rapid transit cannot possibly be forthcoming for several years.

Therefore, it is essential that steps be taken as soon as possible to assure the retaining of the SN tracks, so that the tracks can be used in furtherance of any future rapid transit plans, if such plans prove feasible.

The SUN suggests that Utah Construction Company, the Rheem interests and the Dollar Industries sit down together in the very near future and see if arrangements can be made to purchase Sacramento Northern, or at least that portion of it that goes from Oakland through our area.

Such purchase could be made when the line is offered for sale by the trustees in bankruptcy, or possibly could be made by dealing with Western Pacific later — although it would appear wise not to wait for the latter development.

It would be to the direct advantage of Utah Construction Company, the Rheem interests and the Dollar Industries to buy the property, since the tracks go through Utah Construction property, into Rheem land and on into Saranap. A commuter line would increase the value of their land many fold.

Such purchase would also be a tremendous public service. The thousands of commuters in Central Contra Costa County would benefit from rapid transit through the Moraga area.

Admittedly, this is an unorthodox idea. Maybe it's too late to try it — but we hope not, since some definite action must be taken to prevent the wreckage of the tracks and to save them for future use, if it is at all possible to do so.

There is no question but that the three companies have plenty of funds with which to buy the tracks and right-of-way. The possibility of doing so is worth the expending of concentrated thought, effort and deliberation.

And if it is to be done, there is no time to lose. Plans and preparations should be made right now.

Action in this direction could be a real boon to this entire area. We respectfully urge the Utah Construction, the Rheem interests and the Dollar Industries to consider our suggestion and to act upon it.

It's Safety. You pay nothing for it, except carefulness, willingness to obey traffic signs, courtesy towards others. And what a value! It can save your life.

Be Careful—the life you save may be your own!

What They Say . . .

How do you Feel About Diablo Freeway?

Everyone who drives is looking forward to construction of the Diablo Freeway with fervent anticipation.

Motorists are bearing confusion and inconvenience at the Orinda Crossroads with patience, knowing that soon their troubles at that bottleneck will be over with completion of the interchange.

The SUN this week called residents to ask them, "How do you feel about the need for completion as soon as possible of the Diablo Freeway?"

THEY AGREED unanimously that the problem is urgent, and here is what they say:

"I definitely feel that the need is great," said Mrs. Henry A. Donovan, 3745 Highland Road, Lafayette. "My husband commutes and he will be glad to see it completed too."

MRS. RAY DONDERO, 3330 North Lucile Lane, Lafayette, said, "I have twins and seldom get on the highway, but my husband commutes every day and he'll be awfully glad to see some progress made. I don't keep in touch with it much, but somebody told me a new cutoff had gone into effect in Orinda."

"I think is would be wonderful," said Mrs. Howard J. Doolittle, 35 Donna Maria Way, Orinda. "I'm a new driver and I think it would be fine to be able to turn onto a freeway at Main Street and Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Walnut Creek instead of fighting the situation that exists there now.

"I wish it were like the signal at the Orinda Crossroads or, better yet, a through freeway."

Mrs. F. A. Dorland, 154 La Espiral, Orinda, said, "Well, we lived in Walnut Crek for six years and just moved to Orinda. But even now my husband uses the freeway and sometimes in takes him just ages to get from the tunnel just to here. I definitely feel it needs to be done as quickly as possible."

"I think it's badly in need," replied Mrs. Carl Bror Borjesson of 84 Alan Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"I really couldn't tell you about that," said Mrs. Edwin Horn of 1749 Shirley Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"I THINK PERHAPS it might be a great advantage to get it finished," was the answer of Irene Gruenald of Oakland, who works as a mothers' helper at 261 Monticello Drive, Walnut Creek.

"I think it is vital, especially as far as my husband is concerned. He commutes to East Oakland," said Mrs. W. J. McGuire of 40 McGuire Drive, Walnut Creek.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

Enclosed please find my check for renewal of the annual subscription to The SUN. The date on the check is significant. It establishes the period of time that I have had to wait until I could note something in your editorial policy which I could enthusiastically support.

You see, I take a rather dim view of your "crusade" against pinball machines. To put it mildly, you have been guilty of overemphasis ad nauseam. The subject should be interred.

Also I resent the inclusion, in your political questionnaire, of certain loaded and irrelevant questions. When an issue is under submission to the people by way of either initiative or referendum, how can the views of any candidate for office be pertinent?

HOWEVER, in your issue of August 13, you have developed a much needed and stinging rebuke to the worst menace to the safety of our highways: The Center Lane Road Hog. More power to you in ridding the highways of this menace.

Perhaps you could use to advantage the thought that practically all of these offenders would be indignant if they were classed as petty thieves.

Yet they are guilty of "stealing" from all who are delayed by their tactics in the value of the time of other drivers who thereby lose the equivalent of nickels and dimes on every trip on a crowded highway.

PUTTING ALL of the emphasis on speed is not the answer to safety; it also tends to justify the "slow poke" who seldom has an accident himself but continually contributes to accidents on the part of those who are forced to weave to pass him.

As zone chairman of the Lafayette Lions, I appreciate the fact that you give mention but also feel that your paper could do better, in view of "community services."

Yours for a better Central Contra Costa County,

Sincerely,
CLIFTON E. BROOKS,
3404 Mt. Spring Road,
Lafayette.

Contra Costa's Industry Called 'Real Paul Bunyan'

By GEORGE BOWERSOX
President, Contra Costa Development Association

A new Paul Bunyan is striding through Contra Costa County every day.

Unlike Paul of the forests he is not a figment of the imagination.

Contra Costa's Bunyan is quite real—an honest-to-goodgoodness giant, doing things not only for himself but for hundreds of thousands of others.

Our Paul is Industry.

What he makes goes to every civilized nation of the world. His products are numbered in the hundreds. Their benefits are untold.

The harvest Contra Costa reaps is very evident, but too often unthought about. The benefits that accrue to our people, our government, our schools are in the realm of common acceptance. They are taken for granted day by day, And, they shouldn't be.

JUST SUPPOSE these benefits were lost. The first day of loss would bring a crushing realization — a realization that is now bringing other counties to look with envious eyes on Contra Costa and mutter loudly and not unto themselves, "We need industry; we have to get industry. Homes won't support schools."

And if we did not have this Paul Bunyan Industry, just what would it mean?

Let's take a look at the figures.

INDUSTRY IS PAYING 53.8 per cent of the county's total tax bill. The 53.8 per cent includes areas that have residents who themselves now look upon their sections solely as home areas.

It is a view that may have to undergo some amendment, because without industry our taxes would have to be increased 100 per cent to afford the same services now rendered by sheriff's office, schools, highways, etc.

It is undergoing amendment even in hitherto exclusively residential Marin.

That 53.8 per cent represents millions in dollars.

LET INDUSTRY shut down tomorrow and it may well be that there will follow terribly crippled government operation.

The very first audible outcry would deal with schools, whether they be in home areas or factory zones.

Of approximately 100,000 Contra Costa jobs, 32.2 per cent, or about 33,000, are provided by manufacturing industry.

EVEN IN THE CENTRAL Contra Costa areas, where hundreds and even thousands commute to jobs outside the county, there are other hundreds and even thousands riding over the hill each day to shore-line factory zones, to one of Paul Bunyan's plants, where the job is provided that means a home, a family, a school for kids and roads to travel.

Contra Costa's Paul Bunyan is really a big guy and it takes a lot to tell about him.

UN's Wide Health Program Praised by LuRene Mattson

As one of the active members of the Mt. Diablo Council for the United Nations, LuRene Mattson of 3574 Terrace Way, Lafayette, has been much impressed by the work for education and health being done by UN.

So this past summer — at her own expense and not in any official capacity as a council member — she toured South and Central America for two months., seeing first-hand the varied activities of a number of UN agencies, as well as of the Point 4 program.

"These activities spell real hope as an important beginning for world peace," Mrs. Mattson said upon her return home recently.

HIGHLIGHTS of her journey included:

1. El Salvador, where the UN's World Health Organization pursues a program of improving the health of the people.

2. Colombia, where, at Sutatenza, high in the Andes and 100 miles from the capital city of Bogota, the Colombian government has established a radio station from which lessons in reading, writing, arithmetic, marketing and soil care and conservation are broadcast.

3. PERU, where the government helps finance a health program for the Indians. This program, part of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund arrangement, includes inoculations, pre-natal care and improvement of the water supply.

4. Haiti, where the Haitian government has taken over, the Marbial Valley project started four years ago by UNESCO. This reaches into the school and embraces subjects like tanning and farming.

"I WAS STRUCK by the sincerity and interest of the specialists who came from various parts of the world to engage in these projects in Latin America," Mrs. Mattson said.

"At an elementary school near Cusco, Peru, one of the teachers, a Peruvian, had received training at Patzcuaro, a UNESCO center in Mexico which I visited last year.

"Haiti had many technical assistants.

"THE OVER-ALL program, in its varied aspects, has the basic purpose of eliminating illiteracy and teaching people the fundamentals of sanitation, health, agriculture and domestic science."

Besides visiting UN projects, Mrs. Mattson found time to visit Panama, attend operas and concerts in Bueno Aires, sight-see in Santiago, Chile; tour the famous Machu Picchu ruins of the Incas in the Andes in Peru, admire Rio de Janeiro, which she describes as "scenically and geographically the most beautiful city in the world," and view the underwater gardens off the coast of Haiti.

She also visited Montevideo, capital of Uruguay, and Havana. From Havana she flew back to San Francisco by the most direct air-passenger route — south to Mexico City and then north to San Francisco. Her trip early in the summer from San Francisco to Central America was also by plane, as was much of her traveling while on her tour.

Mrs. Mattson, who just started to teach the seventh grade at Stanley School, is the wife of Erwin Mattson, Acalanes High School athletics director, and SUN sports editor. He and their children also did a bit of traveling this summer, but of a more limited nature.

"MATT" ATTENDED a one-week school for coaches at the University of Nevada in Reno.

Their oldest son, Jorge, 13, worked for two months on the cattle ranch of "Matt's" brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Womack, at Careywood, Idaho, near Couer d'Alene.

Their younger son, Kenneth, and their daughter, LuRett, visited their cousins, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ceil Howe, at Hanford. Mr. Howe is Mrs. Mattson's brother.

Under The Sun

Snoopy brings up politics

"Hi, ya, Snoopy . . . have any ideas for column?"

The office cat — a very "reliable" source of news — jumped up on the desk and purred:

"Well, Fall is here. How about the world series? — or football — it's certainly in the air. That's a joke, boss! How do you think Stanford and Cal will do this year?"

"It looks pretty good for Cal and poor for Stanford. But, Snoopy, let's leave the grid predictions to our sports page. Any other ideas?"

"Well politics is in the air, too. We have a local election in 10 days and the general election in November," Snoopy said. Is The SUN going to do a better job of covering these elections than it did for the primary?"

"I hope so, Snoop. You raise a question that's been bothering the staff for some time. What can a newspaper do to help the voter make an intelligent choice on his ballot? As voters, I contend we do not have enough material presented to us on the various issues and candidates.

"And incidentally, I believe that too many of us are lazy about availing ourselves of the opportunities to learn more about elections. For example, only a handful of citizens turned out for the various candidates' meetings held before the primary election. The Candidate's Debate sponsored by The SUN at Acalanes was an exception — with nearly 1000 people in the audience.

Concentrated coverage

"Anyhoo, let's get back to the point — how to do a better job of pre-election coverage. We are not going to print a lot of meaningless publicity stories sent out primarily to get a candidate's name in the paper. We're going to concentrate in the two weeks before the election on presenting facts and opinion prepared at our request by the candidates. We'll make this space available to them free.

"In some cases we'll ask specific questions, so the reader can weigh the answers. In others, it may be a relatively general question."

Snoopy looked a bit puzzled.

"Okay, let me explain. Two directors will be elected to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District a week from Monday — September 20. We've asked the four candidates to write 500 words on how they think the Sanitary District can be improved. This, along with their pictures and brief biographies, will be printed next week.

"You see, Snoopy, that's what we consider a general, all-inclusive question. But for the general election, we'll probably ask the candidates for sheriff, assembly and congress questions on specific issues."

Snoopy is suspicious

Snoopy scowled. "I bet you ask them loaded questions."

"We'll try not to. But we will ask real tough questions that'll put them on the spot. A candidate should be willing to express himself on issues — regardless of politics. And if anyone you know has some good questions, we'll be glad to hear them."

"What are you going to do," Snoopy asked, "about the state propositions?"

"We'll publish the recommendations of the Commonwealth Club, League of Women Voters and others. This will help guide the voters."

Snoopy asked, "Are you going to sponsor another candidate's night?"

"I don't think so. Baldwin and Condon, Richardson and Brown debated at our meeting in May. And Doyle and Munns have been at many other meetings in the area. That covers all the county races."

Brown vs. Richardson

"By the way, Snoop, have you figured the sheriff's race yet?"

Snoopy looked perturbed. "Harry Brown is going to have a plenty tough time beating Dick Richardson. You know Brown's campaign lacks money, a campaign manager and organization. Richardson seems to have money to spend. He has a professional campaign manager. And you can almost feel the pressure being exerted by the county politicians and machine to elect Richardson."

"Look, Snoopy, I don't think Brown's chances are that poor. Remember, you and I both were sure he wouldn't qualify in the primary — and he and Richardson were only about 500 votes apart. You can't overlook the tremendous amount of volunteer work being done by enthusiastic amateurs who want to see good law enforcement in this county. Brown has a quality that generates enthusiasm and loyalty in the people he meets. I think it's his sincerity."

Dollars are needed

"Sincerity is fine, boss, but right now Brown needs a minimum of $5000 to run a minimum campaign." Snoopy continued, "I'll bet that at least $25,000 is being spent on Richardson — and most of that will not show until the last week of the campaign. And $25,000 is a conservative figure."

"You're right, Snoop. Brown needs campaign funds badly. In fact, he has a problem keeping Mrs. Brown and the seven kids in food and clothing, as he has been on leave from his job for some months and has no personal money coming in at all.

"But as to his chances — remember, he was an absolute unknown in the June election. But now it's different — he should get lots of additional support. Well, anyhoo, we shall see."

"Don't forget, boss, to remind everyone about tonight. It's Ferrarese night at the Oaks ball park in honor of Don. He's a mighty fine hometown boy and deserves our support."

"Okay, Snoopy, you just did it."
